FOREWORD

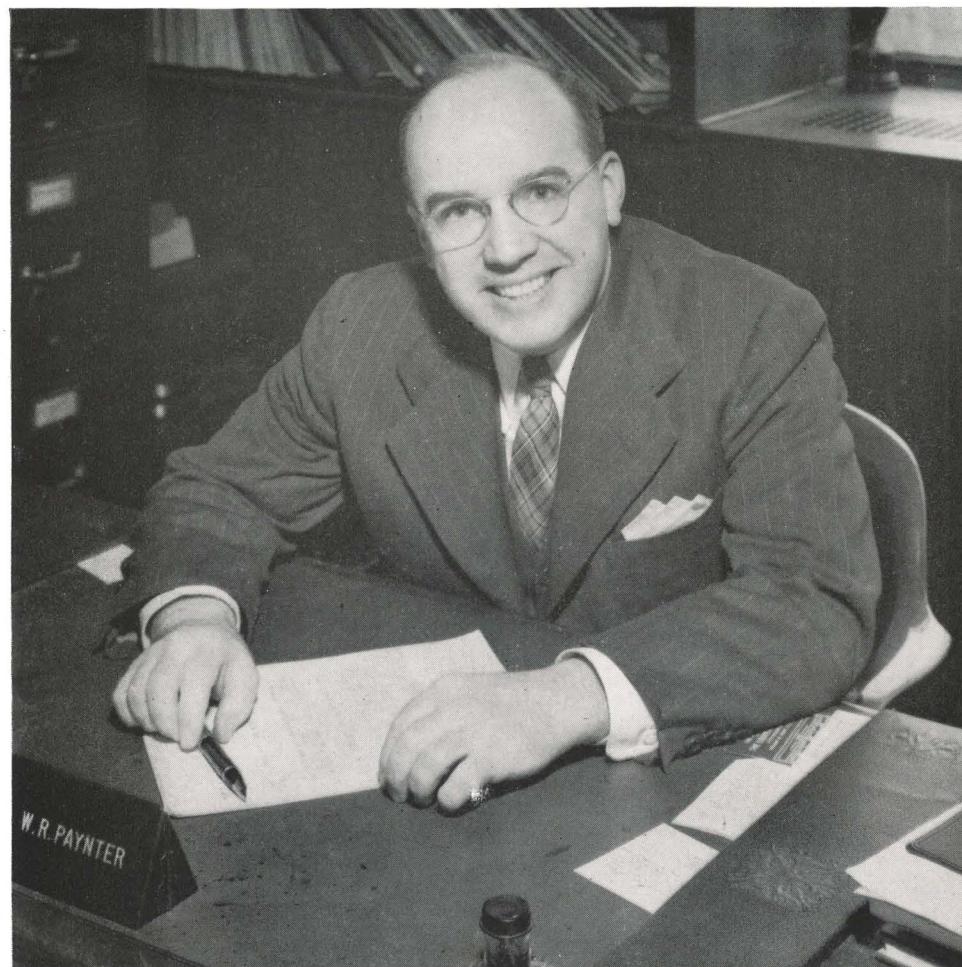

History is being made daily, not only in the modern world about us, but right here between the echoing walls of West View High School. We have endeavored to give you a part of this history in the contents of this annual. We have transformed our modern world, with its streamlined cars and "zoot" suits, back into the time of King Arthur. Those were the times when there were courts and knights and ladies. That was the age of chivalry, armor and charging white steeds. As you pass over the pages of the 1947 Westvian, we hope you too, are carried back to the time of King Arthur; that this annual, pictorially and literally, will preserve for you a lasting memory of the many things we did in our senior year.

ADMINISTRATION

SUPERVISING PRINCIPAL

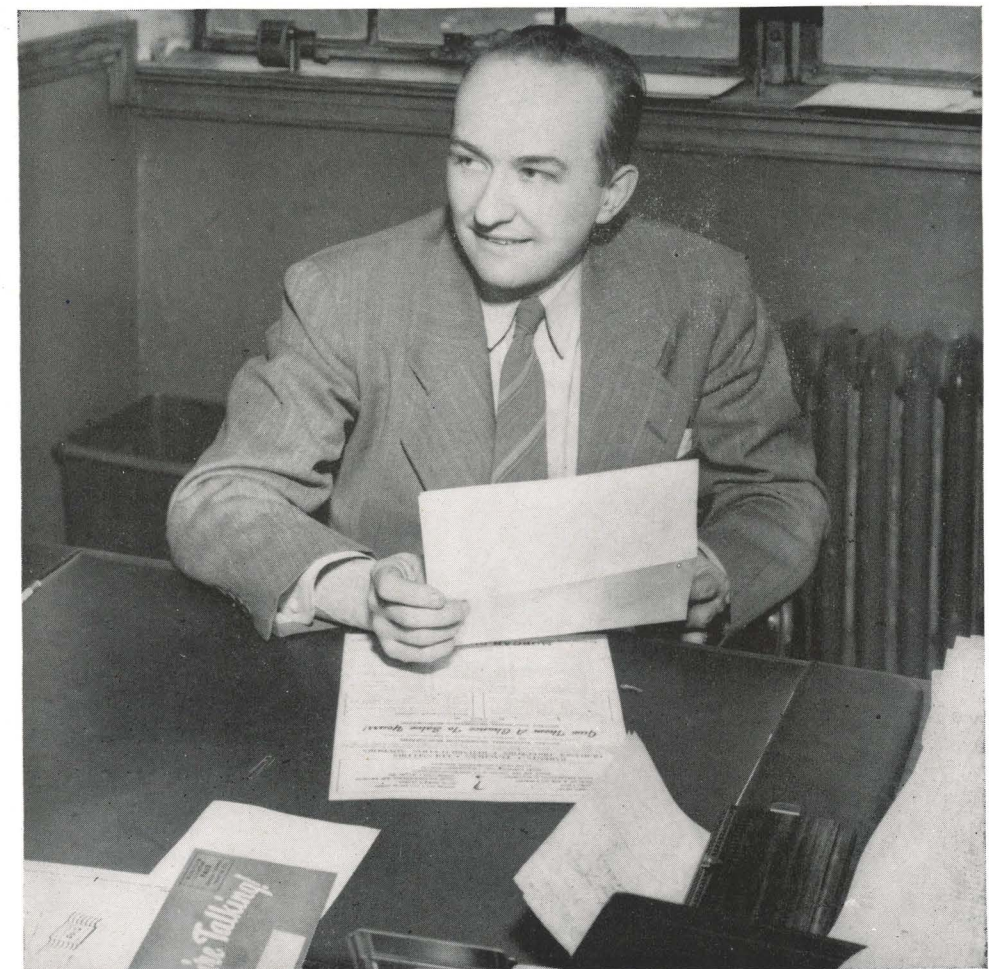

Mr. W. Robert Paynter started his school life in a small one room school in Wayne County in Northeast Pennsylvania. From there he went to high school in Honesdale; then, to East Stroudsburg Normal School for two years. His first job was in a small one room school where he was teacher, janitor, and furnace-firer. After a year of teaching in this school, he instructed for five years in the suburbs of Philadelphia. During the summers he attended Penn State. In 1929 and 1930 he was on the campus of Penn State the whole year. In the fall of 1930 Mr. Paynter came to West View, teaching mathematics and science. Mr. Paynter became the first principal of the school after it acquired its present status of seventh through twelfth grades in 1935. During this time he attended the University of Pittsburgh where he acquired his Master's Degree. In 1945 Mr. Paynter became the supervising principal of the West View schools.

We, the seniors of West View High School, are very fortunate in having had Mr. Paynter with us during our entire four years. He has aided and advised us through our school years. To this friend and counselor we extend our deepest gratitude.

HIGH SCHOOL PRINCIPAL

Mr. Robert Jordan has earnestly and faithfully served West View High School for two years in the capacity of principal. He had previously taught commercial subjects here before the war interrupted his teaching career. Mr. Jordan saw action in the European Theater of Operations before his discharge and his return to West View. No sooner had he arrived than he was elevated to the position of principal, replacing Mr. Paynter who had been promoted to the supervising principal's office.

The military experiences of Mr. Jordan have given him a better understanding of student problems and school difficulties. He is always willing to assist a perplexed student in every way possible. The Student Council has found a sympathetic listener and a reliable friend in Mr. Jordan. The Senior Class of 1947 is truly grateful to him for his numerous services. He has rendered service in all respects; discussions of college entrance, problems of employment, and many other ways.

An avid and a profound interest in sports, classes, individual problems, and the many activities of the school is always shown by Mr. Jordan. The Class of 1947 is thankful for the competent and understanding principal they were privileged to have.

SCHOOL BOARD

Charles E. Wissner, Harold Slack, Frank J. DeMaria*

The leaders of our school system are a most important civic group. These men in the past years have regulated school taxes and expenditures, and sought the best quality of supplies which a comparatively large school like ours needs and uses.

The proof that these men have done excellent work in the past is the fact that they have all been re-elected many times. Their time and services are rendered for no compensation whatsoever.

At their meetings they have discussed such important things as: new stage curtains for the auditorium, tile shower rooms for the students, resurfacing the football field, increasing the seating capacity for games, and having dressing rooms for both teams at the field instead of at the Oakwood Avenue School. One of the board's aims was recently accomplished when the fence for our football field was installed.

Summing up, a good definition for the School Board would be that they are the policy-making group for the school. Aside from the routine activities which are taken for granted, there has been the achievement of developing the high school building and grounds surrounding the school, together with the improvements made to the athletic field, due to their suggestions. All in all, we certainly have a fine School Board. A group which has earned the thanks of everyone in West View for work well done.

SENIOR EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

First Row—F. McCune, A. Sommers, D. Kibler, P. Kready, A. Eyles, M. Michalko, D. Haller. Second Row—Gene McGrew, N. La Slavic, B. Fritsche, Mr. Herman. Third Row—R. Reif, B. Sabina, S. Affolder, Miss Kiedaisch.

"We want a hayride!" "What's our next activity?" These were the questions and statements that concerned the Senior Executive Council. After the class decided what its activity would be the executive council went to work in perfecting plans of their choice.

Senior Executive Council was the representative body of the senior class. The members were chosen this year in each senior home room. They related the class problems to the council and related the council's discussion to each senior home room.

The officers of the class were: Gene McGrew, President; Fred McCune, Vice President; Audrey Sommers, Secretary; and Pat Kready, Treasurer. Miss Kiedaisch and Mr. Herman were the sponsors.

The officers and the members of the council smoothed out such problems as graduation announcements, name cards and facilities for the dinner dance. Through the Senior Executive Council the Senior Class is represented and benefited very well.

VETERANS IN THE SENIOR CLASS

Sometime during the past year the following veterans returned from the armed services to join our class and finish their high school education. We were all proud to include these boys as members of the Senior Class of 1947.

ROBERT DAVIS
 WILLIAM TAYLOR
 HARRY VICKERMAN

1946 PROM

On the twenty-fourth of May, the Court of King Arthur was relived for the students of West View. On that beautiful evening the courtly knights of the junior and senior classes escorted their maidens to the Junior Prom.

In 1946, that all important occasion was held at the Highland Country Club. No white chargers were present though, for these modern knights and their maidens traveled in shiny cars.

The couples glided past the friendly reception committee and onto the club's spacious dance floor. Couples danced to the smooth, sweet music of Tommy Carlyn's Orchestra. No ball of King Arthur's could have surpassed the splendor of prom night.

As the evening grew warmer, couples drifted out to the airy veranda to dance or they walked over the dewy-fresh golf course. Iced gingerale and coke were served in the club's modern bar.

Couples left the club, until only a few remained to dance to the last selection of Tommy Carlyn. At first the students had been skeptical as to whether a prom at home could be as successful as one held at an elaborate Pittsburgh ballroom. The '46 Prom proved that good music, and a congenial crowd were sufficient to guarantee a delightful evening for all.

"SPRING GREEN"

First Row—Miss Delp, S. Wettach, M. J. Schmidt, P. O'Keefe, B. Farina, M. L. Bauer, J. De Maria, M. Smith. Second Row—G. Ford, C. Smith, G. McGrew, A. Ruffolo, J. Fullerton. Third Row—J. Meister, R. McGlaughlin, G. Zockoll.

The Class of '47 proudly presented "Spring Green" in the spring of their junior year.

A zestful, humorous play, displaying the talents of the junior class and directed by Miss Delp, met with great approval from the capacity crowd which filled the auditorium.

T. Newton Todd is a shy reserved young man of sixteen, whose only joy in life is raising earthworms. Newton and his handsome father, Major Todd, are visiting an old sweetheart of the major's, Mrs. Nina Cassell. Major Todd is a lonely widower in search of room and board for his son while he is stationed at the local army base. Due to Newton's unpredictable behavior, he was expelled from a New York military school. Nina's energetic teen-age daughter, Tony, and her chums become excited over the arrival of this new boy from the big city. Dunk Doyle and his pal, Bing Hotchkiss, are the local high school heroes. T. Newton proved trying to his father and his high school friends. There's great excitement when Bing's sister, Eula, who once was quite homely, returns to the hometown a very pretty young lady. Scootie, Nina's youngest daughter, is a ten-year-old bundle of vitality who avidly pursues her job of collecting scrap for the scrap drive. Among all the confusion, Major Todd and the charming widow, Nina Cassell, have decided they are once more in love.

Under the very skillful direction of Miss Delp, "Spring Green" was a big success.

"A Date With Judy," a play selected by the senior class, was presented on the evening of November 22nd in the West View High auditorium. It is a comedy in three acts, adapted from the radio program of the same name, which represents life in a modern household.

The play takes place in the Foster home in a town in the middle west, centering around the life of the Foster family. Judy Foster is the pretty sixteen-year-old miss. Dora Foster, Judy's attractive mother, is a few years younger than her husband. Melvin Foster is in his early forties, nice looking and pleasant in disposition, except at those times when his children try his patience too far. Randolph Foster is the "mean little kid" who possesses a dry sense of humor and delights in making his sister the butt of his frequent remarks. Oogie Pringle, Judy's boy friend, is devoted to her, but she takes him completely for granted.

The plot of the play involves Judy's attempt to raise the largest amount of money for the community relief fund. The girl who raises the most money for the cause is to be crowned queen of the ball, which Judy's club is giving; she will have the privilege of leading the grand march. Judy stops at nothing in order to become queen and in the end is successful.

The Senior Class was honored to have Miss Delp aid them in producing their play.

SENIOR ACTIVITIES

SENIORS! What a wonderful name! At last we have attained that distinguished title and have become entitled to all of those wondrous things that go with it. We had always envied the departing seniors and now here we are looking back on our senior activities.

One of the first things we can remember this year was the senior play, "A Date With Judy." Courtiers of West View laid aside their important problems for a bit of laughter and fun with the seniors. The borough was canvassed for the sale of tickets. We had play practice four and five times a week, then dress rehearsal, and finally the "first night" with makeup and all. Everything went off without a hitch and we had scored a huge success with our great production. We all acclaimed it the best ever given by any seniors.

No sooner was the Federal tax counted on the play tickets, and the profits safely locked in the strong box in the office than we were heralded to the Strem Studios. There we combed our hair, looked at ourselves in mirrors, and discussed the strategy of the photographers. Finally, we were plunked down on a stool amid blinding lights and told to smile for the birdie. Sighs of relief were expelled as we disengaged ourselves from the posed positions and headed back to West View. Days later we received small envelopes containing pictures, which, as the man informed us, were very inexpensive. That's when everybody decided to get a job.

On November 9, we had a combined barn dance and hayride. We all sweated it out at Rose Grove in North Park, dancing and hopping around to the commands of the caller and music of a shrill phonograph. Then we ate our lunches and scrambled for a good place on the hay wagons. For an hour or so we toured North Park, singing and having fun.

One day we were all called into the principal's office. As soon as we set foot inside the door we were pushed up against the wall. Then, very hurriedly, we were measured with a tape. As we were quickly leaving the office we were informed that we had just been measured for our caps and gowns. Things were really coming to an end.

In the next few days we ordered our name cards and graduation announcements. Within a few weeks, we had received our name cards. No sooner had we opened the little boxes and gotten a glimpse of the top card than we had acquired cards of our friends and rid ourselves of our own long-awaited cards.

Things were fast drawing to a close and we began to realize that we were about to finish our high school days. Next on our schedule were the prom, at which we were the guests of the juniors, baccalaureate service, dinner dance, May Day, and finally graduation.

Thus we spent the last year of our " 'readin and 'ritin and 'rithmetic days."

CLASS ACTIVITIES

In the days of King Arthur, many royal festivities took place in his court. We here at West View are not to be overwhelmed by any of his regal splendor. For this year as in the past the classes of West View High School have sponsored many activities which will take forever to be forgotten.

The seventh and eighth graders as pages were too busy learning their reading and arithmetic to undertake the task of creating class activities. While becoming acquainted with the shady nooks and dark corners of our merry palace, they brought both joy and sorrow to their many teachers.

The freshmen of King Arthur's court were not left out of activities. On February 17, the ninth graders organized themselves and held a Valentine's Day dance which was sponsored by Miss Plank, Miss Grob, and Mr. Puchta. The dance was exclusively for ninth graders and their guests. Until 11:30 there were many starry-eyed dancers gliding along to the merry melodies of Elmer Pohl and his orchestra. The freshmen were served and the glorious evening was climaxed with a cake-walk.

Late in November the sophomore class sponsored a hayride, one of their biggest class events. On that evening a majority of the sophomore class couples assembled at the high school to board the chartered buses. When everyone had jammed on to the buses, they headed for the entrance of North Park where they were met by five hay wagons. After circling around the park for a few hours, they returned to the entrance of the park, scrambled on the buses which carried them to the huge North Park Lodge where they danced and ate lunches. Many couples braved the cool atmosphere to climb the high tower. As midnight approached, the exhausted couples returned by bus to West View, cherishing fond memories of the wonderful hayride. This year the sophomore class officers: were Ed Fullerton, President; Ronald Schomburger, Vice President; Meda Kaesmeier, Secretary, and Audrey DeMaria, Treasurer.

The Junior Class held their first organized activity of the year late in November. This activity was in the form of a dance with the novel name of J.D.F.A., which stood for Junior Dance For All. It was held in the high school gymnasium; Howard Swain and his orchestra provided the music. On March twenty-first, the juniors presented "Love Your Neighbor," a riotous comedy in three acts. The juniors went all-out for a gala prom this year by having it held in the beautiful Crystal Ball Room of the Schenley Hotel on Monday evening, May 12. Other tentative activities planned by this well-organized class were a barn dance and a picnic. Drawing their successful year to a close, they looked forward to their next year as first class knights. The junior class officers were: John Pinkerton, President; Ken Tyson, Vice President; Ruth Jacobs, Secretary, and Ken Richey, Treasurer.

Every class has provided many joyful occasions which will always be remembered. Plays, dances and hayrides dominated the scene of activities. In the years to come each class as alumni can look back on all the wonderful memories of 1947.

"Gather round all ye noble knights," echoed through the halls as West View's students assembled to discuss the coming mission of forming the 1947 Westvian. Nancy Smith, West View's King Arthur, became Editor-in-Chief. Lady Sanders, Knight of Literary, and Sir Foster, Knight of Business, took their places. Next came Lady Reed, Knight of Photography, and Lady Wicks, Knight of Paints and Brushes. Lady Smith and Sir McGrew took their positions as Knights of Activities and Sports. Lady Hamburg was busy recording their many deeds. Sir Herman and Sir Puchta took their places as the King's advisers.

Selling refreshments at the athletic events, writing about many activities and typing all write-ups were some examples of hard work. Adventure and splendor were represented by the May Day activities. After working diligently to bring their mission to a successful close, the knights looked back upon their months of work with pride and joy.

Every morning at eight-thirty in room 209, you would find an informal group working busily for the enjoyment of the whole school. This group represents the staff of the West Wind, the school newspaper.

There was careful planning behind each issue. At the last minute, however, there was always a scramble to meet the deadline, rewrite articles that were not up to par, and assemble each page until everything was satisfactory. When the paper finally departed for the printer a general sigh of relief escaped. Then the skeleton of the next issue was begun. The pattern invariably repeats itself.

There were many eagerly awaited features published in each issue. This year these were:

"Drool Daze," which exposes the current love interest of our amorous students; "Inquiring Reporter," with the by-line "Did You Express Your Views?," which speaks for itself; "Fash With a Dash," a snappy column which gives the latest in all fads, frills and fancies for the junior miss; the "Indian File," a new column, related to the latest in the sports world at West View.

The West Wind reflects the life and interests at West View. It was written entirely by students, thereby providing an excellent opportunity to write for those interested in journalism. The very capable editor was Pat O'Keefe and the sponsors were Miss Delp and Mr. Zerke.

WEST ZEPHYR STAFF

The West Zephyr has proven again that our junior high school pupils are up to the knighthood standard. As part of the West Wind, it shared the responsibility of reporting all school news. This year, as usual, the West Zephyr occupied the last page of the senior high paper.

Under the competent guidance of Miss Evans, the students organized and elected the following officers: Pat Harris, Editor-in-Chief; Charlene Ehrenfried, News Editor; Carol Gallwits, Personals Editor.

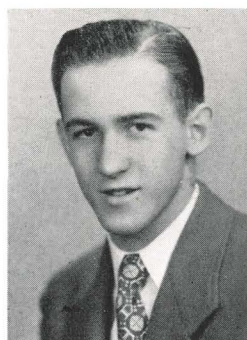

Probably the most popular section of the West Zephyr was the Super Snooper, a column which never missed any of the puppy love affairs in the younger classes.

It supported the junior high football and basketball teams by printing the scores and schedules of each game. This kept the rest of the school posted on the future senior varsity players.

The West Zephyr was a really vital part of the school newspaper. In years to come everyone will look forward to reading it on the back page of the West Wind.

King Arthur had his round table. West View has its Student Council. The governing body of West View High School is composed of members from each home room and the cabinet members. Student Council is one of the most smoothly functioning organizations in the school.

The Student Council this year brought to the school many interesting paid assemblies. They also had many other assemblies sponsored by the various organizations in the school and by exchange assemblies.

The annual magazine campaign was again conducted by Student Council this year. There were some three thousand seven hundred dollars worth of magazines sold. Approximately thirty per cent of this was profit. This money, plus the money earned and saved by former Student Councils, was combined to purchase a Hammond organ to be used as a memorial to the alumni of West View who gave their lives in the war. This organ was dedicated at a memorial service on December seventh.

In October, the six delegates who attended the state conventions of Student Council's at Hershey, Pennsylvania, reported that the Student Council at West View was one of the best.

The Student Council of '47 really put in a very worthwhile year. A vote of thanks from the student body should go to them.

Just as King Arthur worked to uphold the spirit and valor of his knights, so West View's vigorous students added to the spirit of their school by their work in Sigma Phi Sigma. This organization has done its job of building school spirit and keeping up the morale of the varsity players.

The club started in September with a talk from their capable sponsor, Mr. Martorelli. He told them how the club represented the West View spirit, and they were to spread that good spirit around. From then on, things began to hum.

During football season, street cars were chartered to carry the cheering students to most of the away games. Colorful posters were made and hung in the halls. The goal posts were decorated with red and gold crepe paper. Pep rallies were held before all the big games. A dummy symbolizing a Bellevue player was burned on the field after the victorious Bellevue game.

Basketball and wrestling seasons were met with just as much pep and enthusiasm as football season enjoyed with the help of Sigma Phi Sigma.

With their fine officers and Mr. Martorelli's help, the hard working members put Sigma Phi Sigma at the top of the list of active clubs. The officers were: Laura Dubaich, President; Audrey Sommers, Vice President; Mary Jane Schmidt, Secretary; Mary Smith, Treasurer.

Sigma Phi Sigma deserves a pat on the back for showing such a fine example of pep and spirit. By the hard work now, and in years to come, they will help put West View High School spirit on the top.

CHEERLEADERS

"Your pep! Your pep! You've got it, now keep it! Doggone it, don't lose it!" This is a familiar cry to every sport-loving Westvian—the cry of our energetic and ever-smiling cheerleaders. The King's football team came through the season on "tops"—and these were the girls who cheered them on. Though most afternoon games were swelteringly hot, and evening games were wet and cold, these twelve were there beside our team, backing them one hundred per cent. Cheers rang out through our auditorium during basketball season, too.

With the advice of their capable sponsor, Miss Aiken, and the leadership of their captain, Mary Smith, they practiced faithfully to make up new cheers, and also to perfect our long-standing ones.

The school came through with new white skirts to go with those bright red sweaters. They made the cheerleading line look even snappier.

It took the whole school, every last one of our student body, to back our teams and make West View's spirit the best yet. These were the girls out in front.

SCIENCE CLUB

The Science Club is divided into several sections, such as radio, general science, and biology. The radio section has set up a "ham" radio station for the school. The school purchased a trans-receiver. In the conference room in the library one is in operation as a receiver. Before school is out it will be a transmitter as well.

The seniors of the Science Club took part in the Westinghouse Science Talent Search. Bill Schane won an honorable mention. He was one out of three hundred in the nation to receive such an honor. The seniors also spent an afternoon at the Mellon Institute; there they visited all of the research laboratories.

Their competent sponsor is Miss Alcott, who has been a great help to all of the Science Club members.

All of the club members were quite active in the Science Fair which was held at the Buhl Planetarium. A number of them also attended the Science Congress at Christmas time. These are just a few of the many interesting and educational things the Science Club has done this year.

In the days of King Arthur no one had the privilege of seeing movies. Here at West View everyone has that chance. This is made possible by an organization which is known as the Projection Club.

It was a new activity this year. The club extended its membership to both the boys and girls of the school; however, none of the feminine members of the school joined.

The aims of its members were to take special care of the projector, to show the films to the teachers and their classes, and to show recreational movies to the students at lunch time. They showed many entertaining movies to the members of the Noon Hour Club.

The members met every two weeks to see the entire movie for the next week. Many of the boys particularly enjoyed this practice. The members of the club were very fortunate in having Miss Alcott as their sponsor. The court is very happy with this new club and its activities.

STAGE CREW

First Row—S. Affolder, D. Gehring, D. McIndoe, D. Stierheim. Second Row—C. Hirth, I. Berry, Miss Delp, D. Kaiser.

The lights in the auditorium are dimmed and up goes the curtain. We are all ready to relax and enjoy a play, or perhaps a minstrel or perhaps just an assembly program. Whatever event it may be, the stage crew has been a great help in making it a success.

If you have ever been on a stage crew you know that it takes a lot of time and planning to get the scenery and lighting effects in good order. Besides doing work for school activities they have also helped the Childrens' Theater or any other organization which may be using the auditorium. This has been the first year the Stage Crew has been under the excellent leadership of Miss Delp.

Well, that's all there is to it. Just a bunch of hard working boys who spend many hours working behind the curtains to make the shows and assemblies a big success. These boys are always backstage, so please remember to thank them for a job well done.

Y-TEENS

On September 9, 1946, the first meeting of the Y-Teens was held. At this meeting the new officers, Bernice Gottschalk, President; Betty Bailey, Vice President; and Jean Sanders, Secretary-Treasurer, took over their duties for the first time. They elected Miss Rucker as their new sponsor and made plans for their well-known initiation.

This organization, which is better known by some as the Girl Reserves, did many interesting things during the year. They not only go in for their own fun, but for things which might bring happiness to many.

The activity which started the year with a "Big Bang" was the masquerade ball held in the high school gym on October 28, 1946. They gave this dance the novel name of

"Spipoipok Spipin," which meant "Spook Spin."

World Fellowship week which was carried on by many civic clubs of the nation during the week of February 17-22, was also supported by the conscientious members of this thriving organization. They recognized the need for understanding between the youth of many different nations and realized the necessity for this among the teen-agers of this nation. To help this affair they sold stamps for World Fellowship to the entire student body. They sent clothes and other articles to girls in France and Belgium and began correspondence with teen-agers abroad. As a final activity they sponsored the Senior Breakfast for the girls of the Senior Class.

LIBRARY CLUB

Housed in our spacious castle is the den of knowledge for our knights and ladies. Here, under the capable guidance of Miss Rea and Miss Delp, many hours are spent in study and in pleasure. The library is one of the best in Allegheny County.

Much of the credit goes to all the willing maidens who aid the knowledge seekers. Not only must they assist in finding material, but also mend the books, keep the library clean, and most of all, decorate the many bulletin boards.

However, all work and no play would make the maidens be unhappy. Thus a social meeting was injected each month into the agenda of the year. Among these is the annual Yuletide festivity. At this time the traditional tree-trimming was held. Its splendor illuminated the school with the Christmas spirit.

One of the "extra" features was an assembly put on by our able workers. It consisted of the illustration of books by means of living pictures. As usual a cake walk was sponsored by the Library Club. This is one of the biggest after-school court activities.

We must not forget the work that was done by the officers, who kept this important part of the court functioning harmoniously. The officers are: Jean Sanders, President; Jean Schuneman, Vice President; Edith Barisano, Secretary; and Pat Hurley, Treasurer.

The Varsity Club is probably the most popular club in the school. It was first organized in 1936 and had a membership of ten. Since then the membership has grown to forty. All boys who have earned their letters on the gridiron, basketball court, baseball diamond, and mats and the golf fairway are eligible for membership. The purposes of the Varsity Club, which are social as well, are to promote athletic spirit and to establish a fund for all injured athletes. The Varsity Club aided the school in all athletic events held this year. Their members worked with Mr. Luke at all sports events. The Varsity Club also worked in cooperation with the Booster Club.

The "Heart Jamboree," which was sponsored by the Varsity Club was one of the nicest dances held at West View. The members decorated the gym and had complete charge of the festive occasion.

The officers of the club were: Jack Fullerton, President; Fred McCune, Vice President; and Don Turner, Treasurer. Mr. Hartman was sponsor of the club with Mr. Martorelli, Mr. Carroll and Mr. Guadagnino acting as honorary sponsors.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

First Row—J. Heim, R. Steele, D. Gehring, M. Brenneis, H. Foster, R. Schuldt, R. Arn, W. Schane, G. McGrew, W. Maloney, F. McCune, S. Stroup. Second Row—M. Smith, P. O'Keefe, M. J. Schmidt, H. Zehnder, P. Vaughan, N. Smith.

In King Arthur's court, a person possessing superior qualities of scholarship, leadership, character, and service was elevated to the esteemed rank of knight; West View High also has a system by which they recognize these people for outstanding achievement, the National Honor Society. Membership in the National Honor Society is the highest honor that can be bestowed upon a high school student. Members in West View are chosen by vote of the faculty after careful consideration of every aspect of the student's qualifications. Five per cent of the junior class are eligible for membership, provided that they rank in the upper fourth of their class.

The existence of the National Honor Society awakens keener competition, a higher intellectual standard in the school and gives public acclaim to deserving students.

The National Honor Society performs no activities during the year, but to be selected as a member of this organization is a coveted distinction. No other public recognition is awarded to the students who earnestly and unselfishly give the best they have to make their high school one to be proud of. Truly this honor is held as much in esteem as that of being knighted in the court of King Arthur.

ART CLUB

Once again after three years of being idle the Art Club of West View has been reorganized. It has proved to be a finer and better club than ever before.

The Art Club was organized by Miss Gayheart. In order to become a member of it the candidates had to wear red tam o'shanters. The name of the club, Beaux Arts, was chosen from three of four names suggested by the members of the club. This club helped to promote interest in art and gave recognition to those who have done a lot of work for the different activities in the school.

In the middle of the year the Art Club was left without a sponsor, but due to the efforts of its officers it was continued. The members have continued to do the many things they had planned when Miss Gayheart was here.

Near the end of the school year a special exhibition was held in the art room. All of the members voted on the art work they thought best. Prizes were awarded to the winners. The members of the Art Club also gave special awards to the most promising art students. The final event of the year was a picnic where all of the members had an excellent time.

"One, two, three, four . . . column right!" These were familiar commands heard continuously among the band members before school began this year. They were preparing themselves for the coming football games. The faithful members of the band definitely worked long and hard after school and on Saturdays to bring the band to perfection. It was always thrilling at half-time during football season to see the clever routines accomplished by them. Among these various formations were a clock, a football, a pump, and many letter formations. Many intricate maneuvers were also performed. The sponsor line, the flag twirlers and the three majorettes were just as important as the musical part of the band. They were really "hep to the jive" in the jitterbug routine as Glenn Zockoll helped with "Boogie Woogie."

Without the expert leadership of Mr. Caruso (otherwise known as "Zoot"), the band couldn't have displayed itself so magnificently. The leader of the band was undoubtedly popular among his musicians as well as the remainder of the student body. The West View High School band was proud to hail him as their director.

Watching the band from the front, we were greeted by the color guards, carrying the guns and flags. Next in line was the head majorette, Betty Farina, who was pert and pretty in her white and gold uniform. Lucille Pflaum and Jeanne Kirker were her talented attendants who were followed by the prancing sponsor line. The flag twirlers were equally important as they stepped proudly after the sponsor line. Last, but not least, were the "music makers" themselves. Proudly we hailed them all.

The scene is the crowded auditorium at West View High School. As the bright lights are slowly dimmed, a sudden hush falls over the audience and the air is filled with suspense. Slowly the curtain opens and there on the stage stands the State Class B Championship Chorus of 1946. The popular director of this fine group, Mrs. Alice Conner Camp, steps forward and with one magic movement of her right arm the air is filled with the harmonious strains of "When Curtained Darkness Falls."

Let us now go behind the stage and find out what it takes to make a championship chorus. To qualify as a member of this fine group, you must not only have a good singing voice, but must also possess the ability to sight read music and have a definite desire to improve your musical background and knowledge. Our able director gives each applicant an individual test and when this difficult task is over, she invariably comes up with a chorus that is second to none in the state.

The chorus is divided into several musical combinations which include the "Singing Sixteen," Boys' Chorus, Girls' Chorus, Male Quartet, and the ever-popular girl vocalists who sing with the school's swing band.

West View is extremely proud of its chorus and takes great pride in the fact that they have been invited to sing at many important occasions and events throughout the Pittsburgh district. One of the more notable of these events is the annual trip made to the Aspinwall Veterans' Hospital. This trip brings the chorus members exceptional pleasure because of the good feeling that they have done a little to entertain those who gave their most for their country.

Another event that cannot be overlooked is the annual Christmas Cantata, "Childe Jesus," which seems to grow in beauty and significance each year it is presented.

As a fitting climax to the year's activities, the chorus sings at the baccalaureate service for the departing seniors and the musical beauty of this service is such that it remains in the memories of departing graduates forever.

As we write the final laurels for this year's chorus, we of West View wish to say to all the departing seniors, undergraduate members, and especially to their director—"Thanks, for a job well done."

Twice a week at 3:15 the girls make a mad dash for the girls' shower room. The occasion is GAA which meets on Tuesday and Thursday evenings. Tuesday is for the senior high members and Thursday for the junior high girls. The girls compete in volley ball, deck tennis and basketball tournaments in the winter. In the spring mushball comes out full force after a long winter of indoor sports.

One point is received each time a member plays and one-half point if her team wins. After the girls obtain forty points they receive a West View letter which gives them something to work for throughout the year. If at the end of the senior year they have one hundred or more points, the members receive a pin to wear.

Every year the highlight of GAA's season is a volley ball game against the women members of the faculty. This game, along with the boys' basketball game, is held for the benefit of injured football players. This year the game was held on December 6th and was a decided victory for the girls with a score of 49-15.

This organization is under the competent leadership of Miss Aiken. Not only do the sports teach the girls to be light on their feet and have a clear, quick mind coupled with coordination, but also gives them a wonderful lesson in sportsmanship and self-control.

RIFLE CLUB

"READY, AIM, FIRE." The air is filled with a sharp clang as well-placed shots form a neat pattern in the small, metallic target some forty feet away. Yes, once again West View has started a rifle club, and under the very able sponsorship of Mr. Kruse have selected a team to represent our school in W.P.I.A.L. competition.

The club is affiliated with the Junior Division of the National Rifle Association of America, and does its shooting at the newly constructed range in the basement of the Oakwood School.

The sharpshooters have competed in team matches with Millvale and Munhall and have given a good account of themselves considering it was their first time in match competition.

The hard working officers of this fast rising club are: Eugene Rinaman, President; Fred Graham, Vice President; David Gehring, Secretary; and Bill Stephenson, Treasurer.

One of the primary objectives of the Rifle Club is to prevent gun accidents by teaching high school students how to handle, properly clean, and care for a rifle. Another lofty goal of the club is to qualify for various shooting awards given by the N.R.A. to superior riflemen. As the 1946-47 season comes to a climax the members eagerly look ahead to the coming year when they hope to establish themselves as champions in a new field of sport at West View.

In recent years the Latin students have stood in the background in West View's activities. This year they were given the opportunity of becoming a part of club activities. Under the splendid guidance of Miss Vance, all of the Latin I and Latin II students formed a club.

The Latin I officers are Don Fischer, Betty Vargo, Yetta Lemmons and Tom Ednie: Consuls; and Martha Born and Marion Scholl, Scribes. The Latin II officers are Ruth Jacobs and John Pinkerton, Consuls, and Nan Shepfer, Scribe.

Every Latin class had individual meetings. At every meeting a different program was presented. The club activities included the Roman banquet, field trips, and exhibits at the Buhl Planetarium during Latin week. The students attended the Planetarium during Latin week in March. Each school attending the sky show, "Apollo and the Muses," chose a Miss Urania. Ruth Jacobs was chosen "Miss Urania of West View."

The Latin Club was a new movement in language activities this year, and yet it accomplished a great deal. The purpose of the club was to provide a greater interest in Latin and promote a better understanding of it. It also gave the students a wider knowledge of the Roman classics.

SENIOR HI-Y

The Senior Hi-Y, a club affiliated with the Y.M.C.A., was organized in October, 1945, under the very able sponsorship of Mr. H. P. Smith.

The purpose of the Hi-Y is to create, maintain, and extend high standards of Christian character throughout the school and community.

Members are chosen by the club from the tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grades; and membership is limited to thirty-two members.

The officers of the club are: William Walford, President; Robert Sabina, Vice President; William Fritsche, Treasurer; and Jack King, Secretary.

Some of the activities of the club during the past year have been the raising of funds for various charitable organizations, such as, the Infantile Paralysis Fund and Rehabilitation of Europe. The members have also served as ushers for various school activities and as guides for school visitors. Some of the recreational activities of the club have included playing basketball, swimming and bowling.

As a fitting climax to the year's activities, the club is sponsoring a Senior Boy's breakfast to be held sometime during May in conjunction with the Y-teens, who will hold their annual breakfast for the Senior Girls.

This about concludes the year's activities of one of the newest and most progressive clubs at West View High School.

One of the most active clubs in West View is the Speech Club. Its purpose is to provide active interscholastic participation in public speaking experiences for students. This public speaking experience has given the students confidence, poise and training. The club is composed of quite a large number of people. Approximately sixty students of West View take part in speech and debate each year. In addition, the district finals provide opportunity for the better students to win awards and national recognition in interscholastic competition besides bringing honor to our high school.

The members of the club participate in debate and speech contests. Our debate team has scored many successes this past year. The debate question this year concerned socialized medicine. The varsity debaters have gone forth and have orated nobly at many tournaments. They have strived creditably to bring home the choice golden cups with which to grace Arthur's court.

This year Student Congress was held at West View's spacious palace. At that time West View was host to many speech students from all over the territory. The convention lasted two days and was concluded by a very nice banquet at the Pines.

With the help of these capable officers, the Speech Club had a very successful year. The officers were: Nicholas LaSlavic, President; Rudolph Arn, Vice President; Patricia O'Keefe, Secretary, and Robert Schuldt, Treasurer.

The Speech Club sponsored a number of assemblies this last year. At these assemblies they entertained the whole student body with both serious and humorous declamations. The whole court is quite proud of the way the Speech Club members have proved themselves superior.

Miss Morris and Mr. Metz, the two hard working sponsors, were a great help to all of the students.

Welling, Miss Lance.

The Home Economics Club is one of West View High School's newest organizations. Formed late last year under the capable leadership of Miss Lance, it has made excellent progress and promises to become one of the school's most successful groups. The club is a chartered unit of the state and national association of the Future Homemaker's of America.

During the year the girls participated in and sponsored a number of activities. Besides a dance, the Doughnut Hop, which was held in February, several teas were held for the teachers, at which the aspiring homemakers displayed their complete mastery of the culinary art. At Christmas time the members collected a variety of toys to gladden the hearts of the children of the Juvenile Detention Home. This supply was augmented by a number of stuffed animals which were the product of hours of tedious needlework by the able young seamstresses.

The officers of the organization who were elected at the first meeting, filled their offices ably and performed their required tasks willingly. They were: Carol Robertson, President; Nelda Richards, Vice President; Suzanne White, Secretary and Kathy Maggio, Treasurer.

These girls have a goal, even as the ancient knights did. This goal is to learn every secret connected with the art of homemaking. They are learning this so that when their shining knights come along they will find not only a beautiful damsel, but one who can cook as well.

HALL PATROL

Any unsuspecting student strolling aimlessly through the halls may be startled to feel himself grasped by a powerful hand, spun dizzily around, and deposited on the other side of the hall. Who would dare to perform such sinister deeds? There can be only one answer. It must be those privileged members of the Order of the Hall Patrol. However, unchivalrous these characters may appear at first glance, they will fill an important seat at the round table here at West View.

Early in the year the patrol was formed under the capable leadership of Jack Kort, the Secretary of Traffic in our student government. Supervising the venture were Mr. Puchta and Mr. Jordan, the newly elected sponsors of the organization. Even their sharp eyes could find few faults with the patrol. The members were assigned to their various posts where they performed their duties nobly and well by preserving law and order in the corridors.

The order made no plans for activities for the year. Instead, they remained steadfastly on duty, holding their posts against huge numbers of revolutionists, and displaying their rose and gold armbands as proudly as any gallant knight ever bore his shield. The school is proud of the way these knights have kept law and order in the spacious halls of West View High School.

West View's knights in shining armor, otherwise known as "The Indians" in red and yellow jerseys, began the 1946 football season during a hot week in August. Seventy-five promising football stars swarmed over the home field daily in one of the hardest practicing weeks the Indians have ever known.

At the end of this strenuous week, the seventy-five faithful boys eagerly went to Camp Cheerio. Here the 1946 football team was formed with popular Chuck Toth and Bill Maloney as co-captains. A week of anxious, earnest practice was conducted under the very competent direction of Coach Mario Martorelli and his two vital assistants, Mr. Stewart Carroll and Mr. Guy Guadagnino. The well-liked coaches were amiably nicknamed "The Three Musketeers."

The hard work of the team and coaches paid off to the tune of a 7-0 defeat of Leetsdale in the Indians' first gridiron test. The triumphant Indians went off to the Allegheny game in which they put up an unrelenting but seemingly hopeless battle, until in the last few seconds of the fourth quarter, West View went over for a touchdown. With the extra point the Indians tied Allegheny, 7-7. In this game Gene McGrew, capable end, received an injury which limited his '46 football season. The Allegheny game was important considering that they were the city's undefeated Section II champs.

Although the next game ended in a smashing defeat, Millvale 25, West View 0, an excellent spirit was displayed both by the boys on the muddy field and the students who cheered unrelentingly throughout the disappointing game.

This spirit was carried on to the Mars game. West View brought home a triumphant score of 13-6 that night.

October 5th was the most sensational day there has ever been or will be in the Indians' football season. On that unforgettable day West View slashed Bellevue to a 12-0 defeat. This was the first time in any season that the Indians have defeated their chief rival, Bellevue. The Three Musketeers and every last one of their fighting Indians can be justly proud of the Bellevue game.

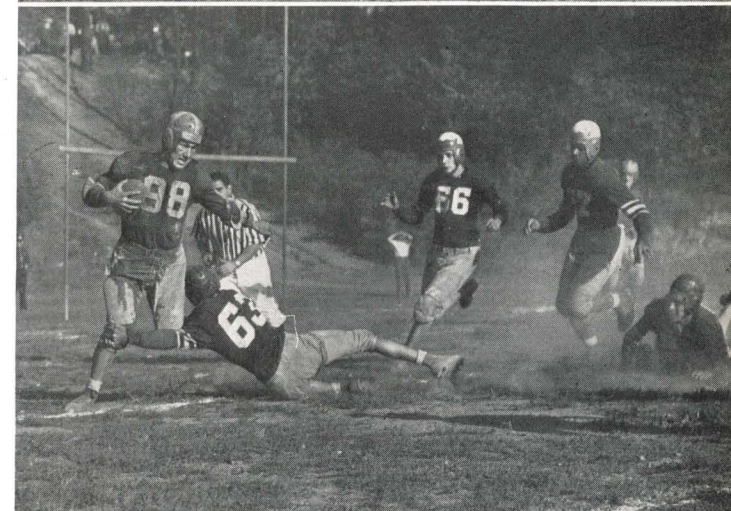

The wearers of the red and yellow jerseys then traveled to Avonworth, Shaler and Brentwood, but their undying spirit brought them back to trim Hampton 33-0, and hold Avalon to a 0-0 tie.

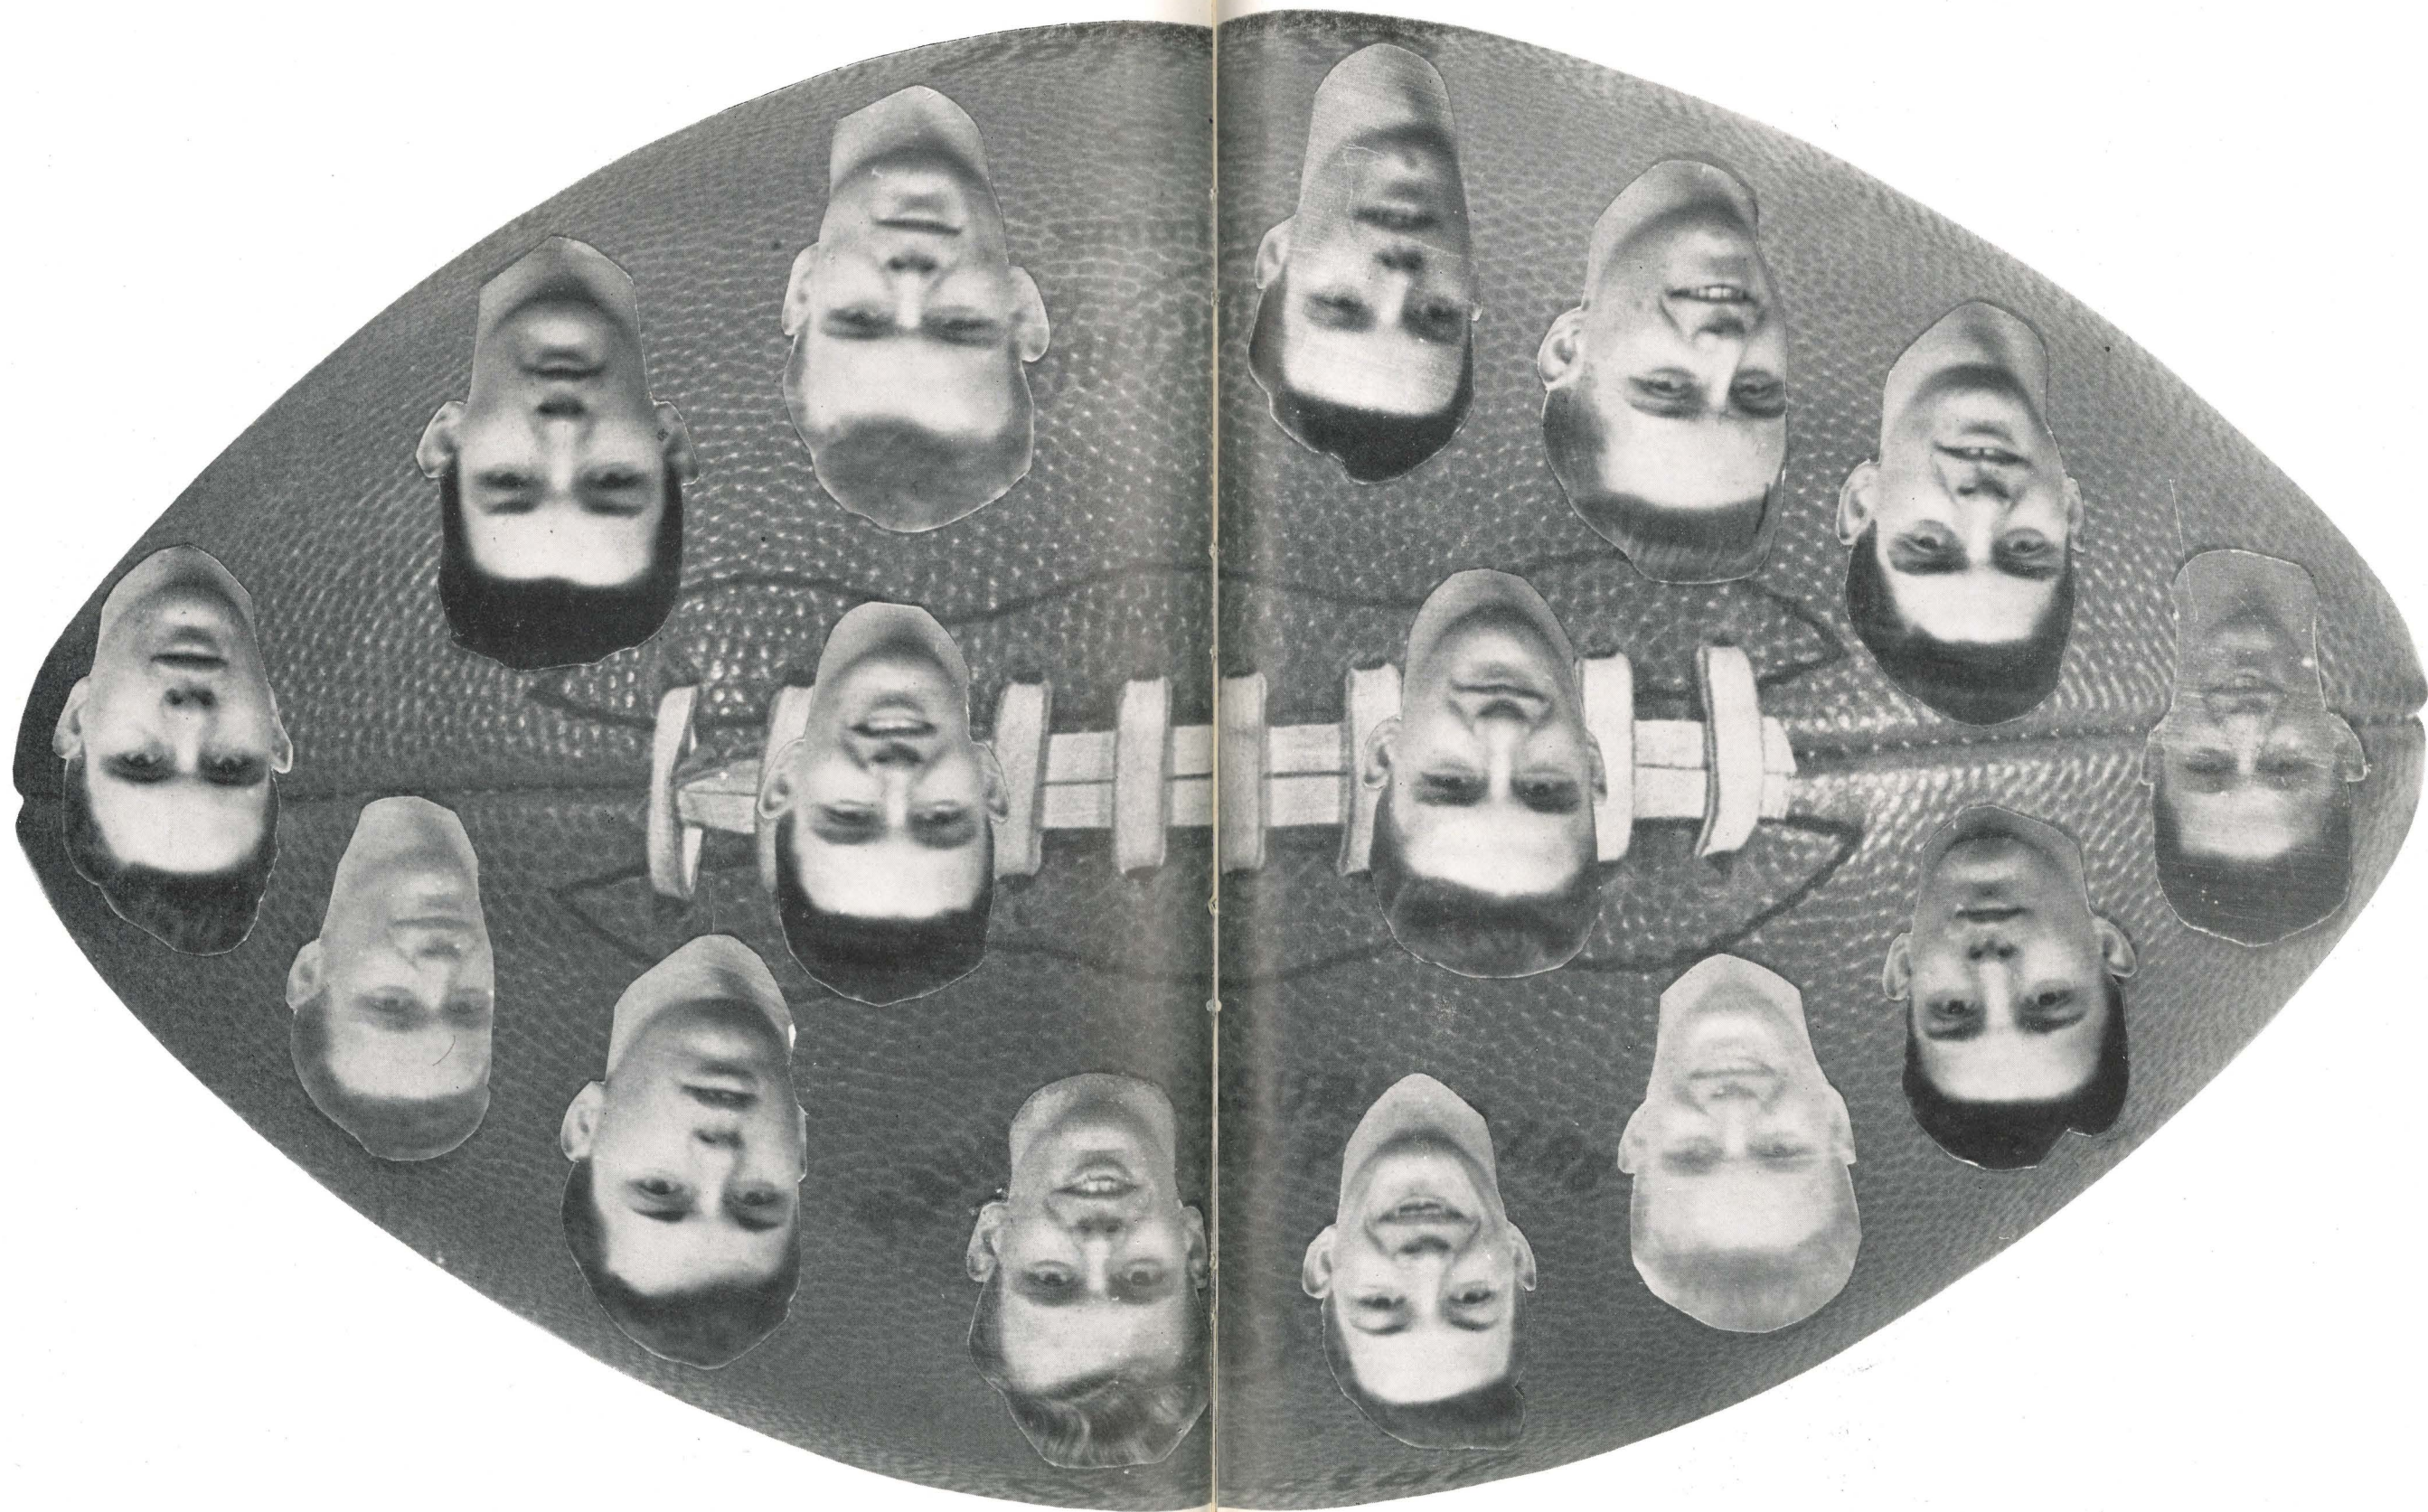

Many players were injured during the season, but they always came back fighting. No definite first string was named due to injuries, change for plays, substitutions, etc., throughout the season.

The team's success was due to the combined efforts of everyone concerned. "The Three Musketeers," the managers—Pete Smith and Bud Schomburger, everyone of those twenty-five boys mentioned in this article or not, and anyone connected with the 1946 football season can be proud of a job well done.

West View also boasts of its junior varsity football team. These boys are the future football stars of West View High. Their fine spirit has won them the admiration of the whole student body.

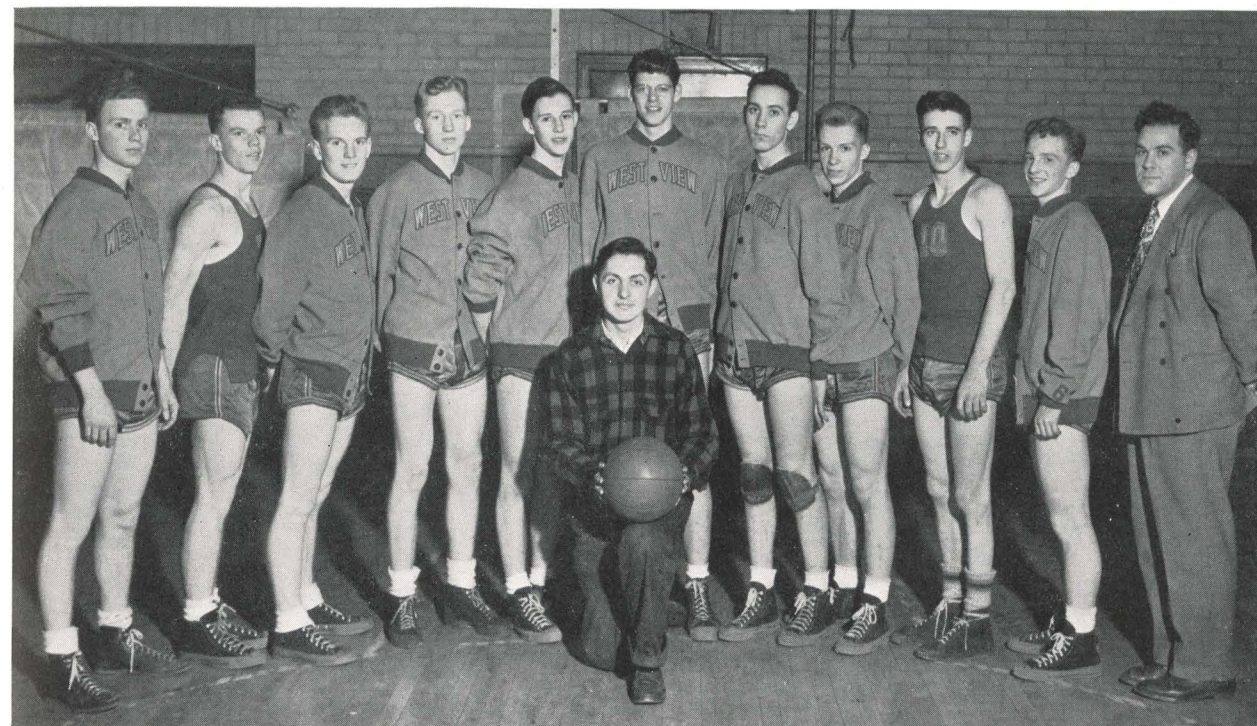

Mr. Carroll deserves the credit for coaching this fine group of boys. He is working hard to mold them into good football material for the Senior Varsity.

The Junior Varsity has chalked up five games for the 1946 season. In the first pigskin game they suffered an 18-6 loss to Leetsdale but displayed some fine playing. John Mellin scored the touchdown for the J-V's. In the second game, Stowe edged the J-V's to a 6-0 score. The next test with Bellevue proved to be a stalemate. In the second game with Stowe the J-V's suffered a 14-0 loss, but came through to end the season with a 19-13 victory over North Catholic. John Mellin scored two touchdowns and Tim Howe the other.

Although they only won one game out of five, the J-V's displayed a determined spirit that will help them in their future pigskin years. Mr. Carroll and his team deserve to be congratulated for the fine work they have put forth in the Junior Varsity.

King Arthur's football gridiron changed to the basketball court. Many of our high-spirited athletes eagerly looked forward to an enjoyable season in our favorite indoor sport.

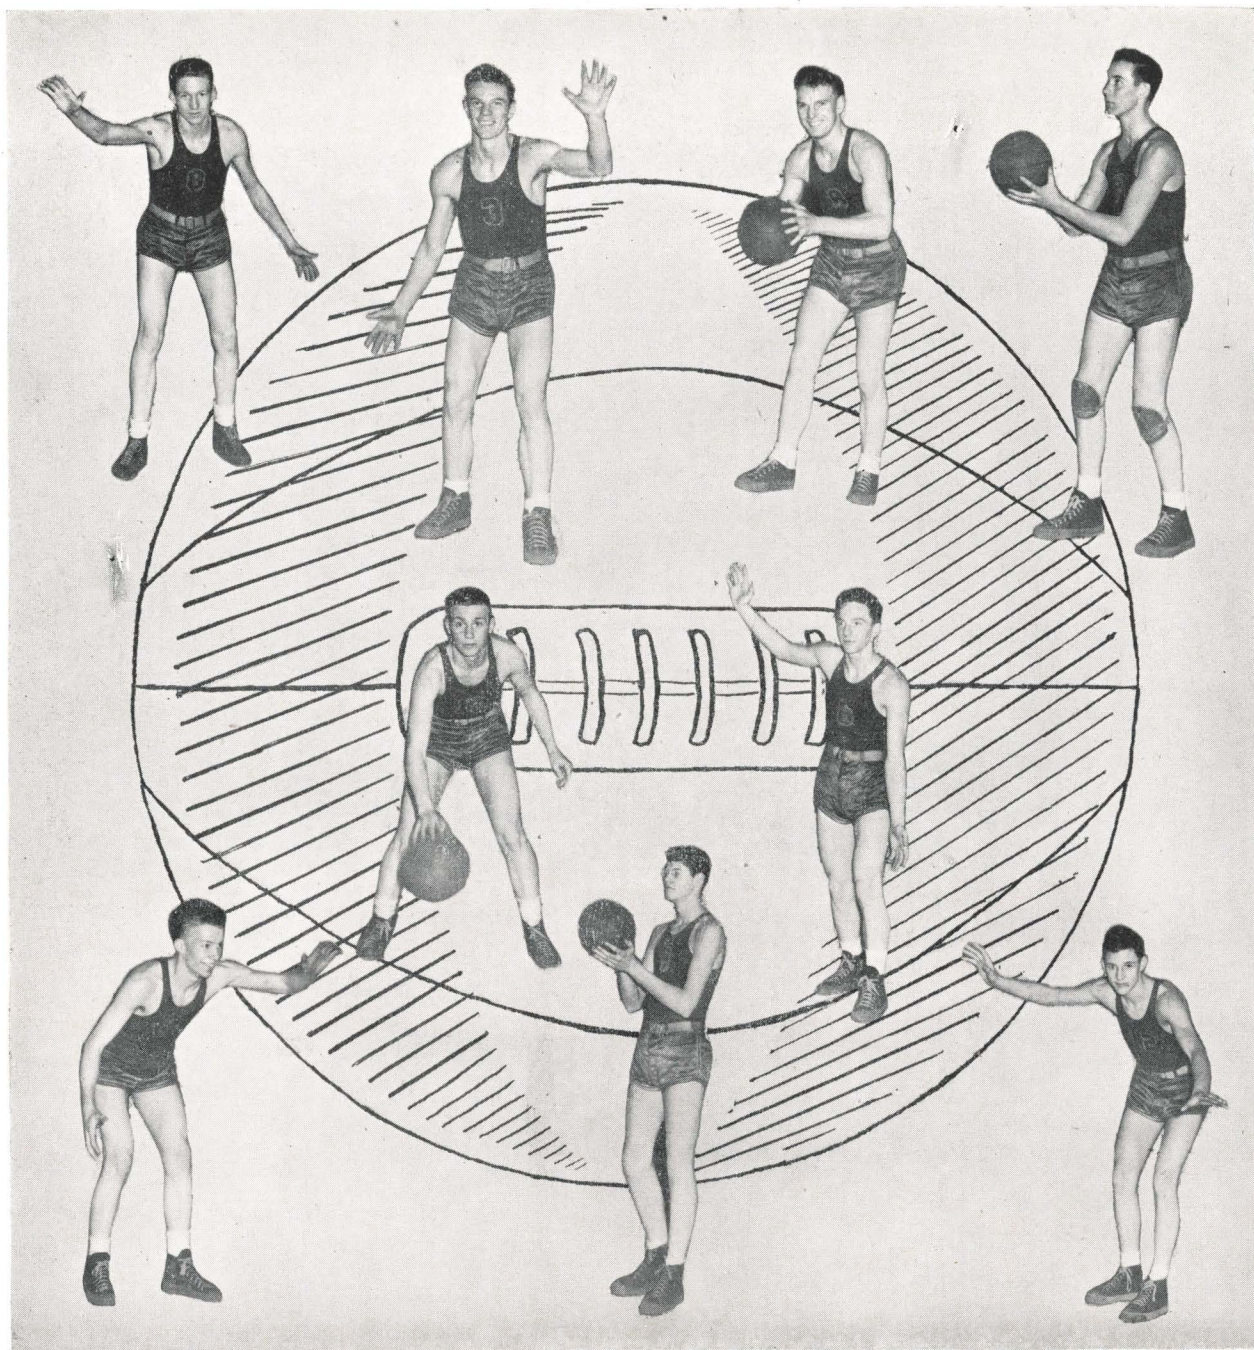

All the fighting knights have had some valuable experience either in Varsity or Junior Varsity basketball.

Heading the team were: George Fletcher, our hard-fighting center; Jack Fullerton and Red McClaughlin as our mighty guards, and Lloyd Murray, Bob Fleming and Glenn Beynon alternating for the position of forward. Always on hand to back up the team were Don Black, Wayne Gibson and John Meister.

Black, who is known as "Blackie," came to us from a neighboring court, Samuel Hamilton.

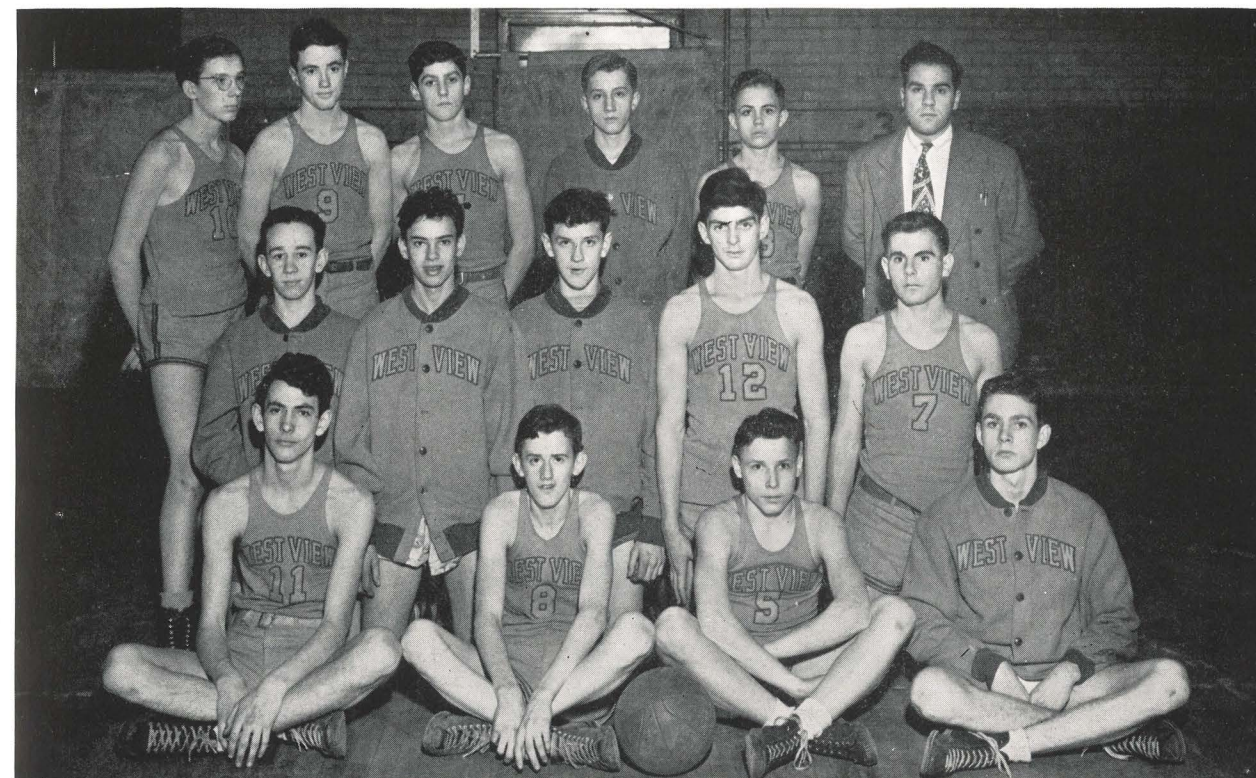

Although the team lacked height, the student body was proud of the way the boys handled the ball and the indomitable spirit and sense of fair play which they exhibited.

The lords and ladies of the court wish to commend these gallant knights for going up and over the team of last year. This year we played in the Class A division instead of Class B, where we were formerly. With Coach Martorelli's diligent guidance we know that the next season will be even more promising and much brighter.

Our senior boys did not have a monopoly on the sporting honors this year. One of West View High's most promising groups was the Junior Varsity basketball team. This team was made up of some of our most athletic freshmen and sophomores. Under the direction of their coach, Mr. Martorelli, they made excellent progress and by the end of the year showed highly improved teamwork and skill. Although they bowed to several opponents of superior strength, they compensated for this by their highly creditable performances. Their spirit was evident in all tournaments, and, win or lose, they were never discouraged.

Another of our younger groups was the junior high basketball team. This was made up of a group of our promising seventh and eighth graders. This valiant team participated in a number of afternoon games, and chalked up a very favorable record for the season. The junior high has its own league and is not confined to intramural activities, but rather is open to competition from other schools.

The remarkable prowess showed by these organizations proved to us that our basketball teams will be in good hands in future years.

JUNIOR HIGH TEAMS

Believing in the old adage "you have to start 'em young," Mr. Martorelli and Mr. Guadagnino have organized the seventh, eighth and ninth grades into basketball leagues for the purpose of developing talent in the junior high school. Although a new experiment, the coaches have successfully used Varsity Club members and senior varsity basketball players to coach and officiate the games. The ninth grade operates under the National League and is divided into six teams competing among themselves; whereas the seventh and eighth grades are members of the American League and are subdivided into five teams. The competition is keen among the leagues, and it is rumored that an award of some kind is in the offing for the winning team in each league.

With the Junior Varsity, junior high, and the American and National Leagues developing talent for the Senior Varsity, bright hopes are in store for the future of West View athletics.

Crack! A white sphere flies through the air and is caught by an outfielder. Baseball season has started. Before the first game there was hard, grinding practice. Coach Guadagnino was greeted by over fifty boys at the first practice session, but after a little pruning this number was cut to a squad of eighteen.

The team lost all of the pre-league practice games but really got going against Shaler, beating them by a score of 12-0. The Indians won two more games and then met a stumbling block in the form of Avalon, who they lost to by one point. They suffered their only shut-out from the hands of the Hampton nine, in spite of the fact that Tuggy Heintz pitched a no-hit game. The Indians won all but one of the remaining games, getting revenge against Hampton with a score of 12-0.

With the beginning of the new year the season of West View's other major indoor sport began. The wrestling team met with great enthusiasm, having from fifty to seventy-five recruits out for it. The opening match of the season was with Millvale, where the Indians showed their very decisive superiority.

In the next two matches the team had a tough time as they took on Jefferson at the opponent's gym and Waynesburg at home. The Indians added to their winning column as they defeated Munhall at their home floor. It was in this match that Bill Miller, our heavyweight, had his elbow dislocated, thus putting him on the inactive list for the remainder of the season. Shady Side came to West View to edge out a very close victory over the team. Then the team took another match when they beat Millvale for the second time at Millvale.

In the next match the team played host to Carnegie and were on the better end of a very lopsided score. Next the Indians struck rough going as they engaged Canonsburg twice in a row. The next match the team went to Shady Side with thoughts of revenge and they got it as they defeated the academy boys. Now the team was set for its last home match and took another victory at Munhall's expense. The last match of the season saw the Indians drop a tough one at Carnegie to end the season with a record of six wins and six losses.

The team, as in years past, is planning to enter a number of contestants in the WPIAL tournaments which this year were transferred to Washington, Pa., instead of Waynesburg, as they previously were. At this writing we can not say what the outcome will be, but we hope for the best for our team. We know they will fight hard whether they win or lose.

The team this year was coached by Mr. Carroll, the grade school physical education instructor. This year it was not what it should have been—it was the best season West View has seen in the last four years. With many underclassmen strengthening the team this year Mr. Carroll should have a real foundation for his team next year.

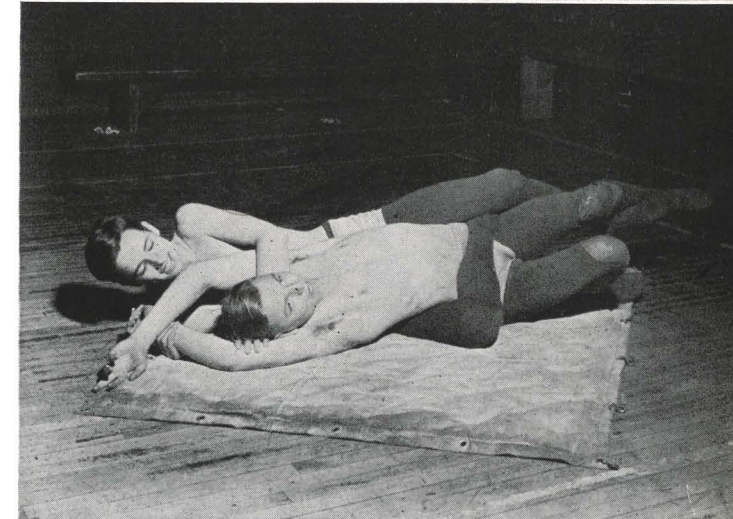

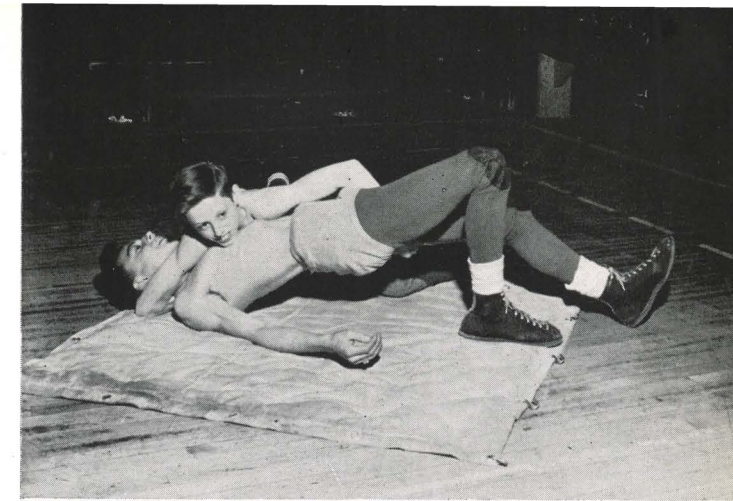

The team worked hard to gain the experience, but in spite of this vigor they thoroughly enjoyed themselves at both the home and away matches. They deserve the thanks of the whole student body for doing a fine job.

Last year West View's golf team enjoyed quite a successful season, losing only to Ambridge in the sectional playoff and this year are looking ahead to the championship. Jack Roy is missing from the line-up this year, but the team is strengthened by the addition of Don Black, who played well in fall practice.

Bob Reilly is the first West View golfer to qualify for the State Tournament and for two consecutive years has broken all previous records for low medal average during the season's play.

The prospects for this season's squad are particularly encouraging. Three members of last year's team remain as holdovers. Don Fisher, Cliff Gass, and Bob Reilly played consistently last spring and they are ready to fill in on this year's squad. With these and many new recruits, Mr. Tiffany is looking forward to another season on top.

ALMA MATER

First Verse—

Nestled snug' mid wooded hilltops,
Shrined in every heart,
Our beloved Alma Mater,
West View, fair thou art.

Second Verse—

Voices gay of youth and maiden.
Echo 'round thy halls.
Mem'ries tender cling forever
To thy chambered walls.

Chorus—

Alma Mater, we thy children,
Tribute bring to thee,
Hail to thee, our dear old West View.
Hail thy memory.

FESTIVAL

With all the splendor and majesty of one of King Arthur's courts, Marguerite Michalko was crowned Queen of the May for 1947 by the retiring Queen, Mary Kohle. This enviable honor was bestowed upon Queen Marguerite in the presence of her whole royal court.

Marguerite, better known to her friends as "Mike," was always ready, willing and able to do anything she could for her classmates. Mike will always be remembered as a very genial and really likeable person. May she enjoy a happy reign during the ensuing year.

CLASS WILL

We, the Senior Class of West View High School, in the year of our Lord, nineteen hundred and forty-seven, do hereby bequeath, in our last breath before leaving this worthy Court of Learning as free men, the following on this ninth day of January, witnessed by other jesters and attendants of this Court.

- I, Steve Affolder, leave Audrey to any boy who is willing to take the risk.
- I, Bill Andresevic, leave my seat on the bench to John Bruggeman for next football season.
- I, Rudy Arn, leave arm in arm with Schuldt.
- I, Betty Bailey, just leave.
- I, Nancy Baldwin, leave crying. Ha! Ha!
- I, George Bauer, bequeath my football and baseball suits to a future player.
- I, Marylou Bauer, will my seat in Mr. Hartman's class to Glenn Beynon.
- I, Leona Becker, leave, but I'm not happy about it.
- I, Joyce Belles, bequeath my chorus robe and all the wonderful memories that go with it to Jack DeMuth.
