Foreword

June arrives and the last Senior Class to attend West View High School prepares to graduate. As we reminisce about our past few years at West View, we cannot help but realize how our relationships with other people and our activities have made us more mature. Our three years of high school are a linking chain which connects our former immaturity with the attitudes we now have, signifying our changed, more adult ways. Come with us, fellow classmen, as we investigate four important links of our "chain of maturity"—the people with whom we have associated, the clubs which placed in us a spirit to work together, the sports which have offered us competition, and the various social events we have enjoyed as a class—to see just how they have helped us to form these more adult attitudes we now possess.

May your remaining years in high school be as pleasant and as profitable as ours have been. May you have as many enjoyable memories to share with your classmates as we the Class of 1958 have.

Junior

Our first link in our "chain of maturity" is "association with other people." We know that in order to be mature, one must be able to get along with those around him. In our past three years at West View we have become friends of classmates, teachers, and administrators. They have all helped us to mature by sharing enjoyable experiences with us, advising us when we needed it, teaching us respect for the opinions of others. Through the guidance of our administration and faculty, we have learned that when one is mature, he uses wisely the talents and intelligence that have been given to him. Our classmates have made us realize that their attitudes must be acknowledged and that we are not always right in the attitudes we have or the decisions we wish to make.

Certainly, our association with other people should be the first link in our "chain of maturity."

CLASS HISTORY

The senior year of our class has drawn to a close. For some, it is the time to be free at last; for others it is a time to feel sad; but, for all of us of the class of '58, it is a time to reminisce our high school days, the good times and the bad, the happy memories and the sad.

Just two short years ago last September, we mighty seniors entered the portals of West View High School as confused, bewildered sophomores. It was a wonderful year, though, wasn't it? It was all so new, so different, so exciting. We elected our capable class sponsors, Miss Wadlinger and Mr. Martorelli, at our first class meeting and chose for our colors and flower, gold and white and the fragile orchid. Most of our time was spent getting lost in the confusion of the halls, but in our spare time, we joined various clubs and studied. Remember our first sophomore activity, "June in January?" Our executive council created a true atmosphere of spring with their decorations, making us forget immediately on entering the gym, the wind and snow we had fought outside. And, girls, how could we ever forget our class picnic at North Park, when we won the softball game?

Our junior year, too, offered many new experiences. We presented our first class play, "I Remember Mama," and were so proud of its success. Oh, and the day class rings arrived! How proudly we donned the handsome rings, flashing and trading them among ourselves. For us, it was a sign that we were truly a part of West View High. Our first activity of the year was held at the Colonial, and was a lot of fun. Our own swing band was featured which provided us with excellent dance music. As juniors, we had the job of planning the Prom for the seniors. It was our privilege to attend along with them, and we had such a good time. As our junior year drew to a close, we looked eagerly toward September and our senior year.

At long last, it arrived. We were seniors and the last class to graduate from West View High School. This year has given us so many memories to treasure. Remember all of the cheering and excitement at the sports events, especially Senior Night . . . the "Turkeyfoot Trot" at North Park Lodge, where there was food and plenty of good dance records . . . the Senior Dinner Dance, which marked the beginning of the end of our senior year . . . "Sabrina Fair" . . . the Junior-Senior Prom . . . May Day . . . and finally, graduation.

Yes, our high school days have given us much to remember and little that we would like to forget. Although all of us will be following different roads to different destinations, we shall never forget our classmates or the closeness and unity that was felt among the members of the Class of 1958.

while remembering the past

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

The power behind the organization of our class were the executive councils. These groups worked hard planning activities and class events, and collecting our dues.

In our sophomore year Dave Alig headed the executive council which led us in choosing our class sponsors, colors, and flower. Our other capable officers this year were Bill Newlin, Pat Selko, and Vera Eckert.

Our junior year was important to us, for we had charge of the biggest event of the year — the Junior Prom. Tom Calhoun was our president, assisted by Dave Alig, Pat Selko, Vera Eckert, and Bonnie Mugnani.

With our senior year came innumerable jobs for our executive council such as the ordering of graduation announcements. Tom Calhoun again was our president; and the other officers were Chum Kovach, Diane Vinkovich, Vera Eckert, and Martha Kotchin.

We thank these people who gave so much of their talent and time to help make the Class of 1958 so successful.

ADMINISTRATION

Dr. Rice

MR. E. D. KRUSE Assistant Supervising Principal

Mr. E. D. Kruse assumed the position of Assistant Supervising Principal of the North Hills Joint School System in 1956. Since that time, he has brought about many improvements in our schools in order to make our program of education more thorough. In addition to caring for the general welfare of the school system, Mr. Kruse supervises the school personnel and takes charge of the school curriculum.

Mr. Kruse's job as Assistant Supervising Principal involves a great deal of responsibility. His previous training makes him wellsuited for such a position. He received his B.S. Degree at Slippery Rock State Teachers College, and his Master's Degree at the University of Pittsburgh, where he is now working for his Ph.D.

Mr. Kruse and Dr. Rice, making plans for the new high school.

DR. R. S. RICE Supervising Pincipal

As Supervising Principal, Dr. Rice is the head of the entire North Hills Joint School System. He is responsible for the organization of this school system, which includes the supervision of the principals, teachers, and students in this district. Also under his supervision are the school census and the various school playground programs. He holds B.S., M.S., and Doctorate degrees from Penn State, which provide the essential background knowledge for his job.

Dr. Rice, an enthusiastic photography fan, has quite a collection of movies, slides, and pictures of West View events.

Mr. Kruse

Late again, Mr. Luke? Miss McGinnis writes him an excuse.

MR. WILLIAM S. LUKE High School Principal

Seeing that our high school operates smoothly is the tremendous responsibility of our popular principal, Mr. Luke. Well qualified for his job, he holds a B.S. degree from Geneva, has taken graduate work at Pitt and Michigan Universities, and has had previous experience as a teacher.

Golf and bridge provide Mr. Luke with interesting and relaxing pastimes. He is also quite interested in athletics, especially when they concern West View's Indians.

Mr. Luke

Miss McGinnis

MISS HAZEL McGINNIS Assistant High School Principal

Miss McGinnis, our hard-working assistant principal, is a familiar figure to students at West View. Her duties are many and varied. Accurate attendance records are the result of her capable supervision. In addition to sponsoring the National Honor Society, she also has the tedious task of determining each student's class rank. Efficient and energetic, she holds a B.S. degree in mathematics from Pitt.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

The Board of Education, as usual, worked hard for the improvement of our school system this year. Its members were elected for a term of six years by the citizens of West View and Ross Township. A monthly meeting was held in the high school library to accomplish their duties of hiring personnel and maintenance workers, regulating school taxes and expenditures, and planning additions or entirely new buildings to be built in our school district in the near future. This year the hope for a new high school became a reality, which presented the Board with many additional duties and problems.

Since education is the foundation of our community, these board members are held in high esteem by all. We, the students of West View, would like to thank them for helping to make our education possible.

OFFICERS

First Row- E. Hopf, H. Canning. Second Row-C. Cummings, M. Frings, H. Johnson.

At West View, students are given the opportunity to participate in many activities, which not only afford us countless hours of pleasure, but help us to become more mature individuals as well. Group activities bring us in contact with other people. Through working with other students, it is possible for us to learn to associate successfully with others. We are taught to put the welfare of the group before our individual welfare and to serve the group's interests unselfishly. Because cooperation is necessary in an organization, we learn to co-ordinate our efforts to achieve a common goal.

Our relationship with others also serves to strengthen our character, along with broadening our scope of interest and knowledge. We learn to accept duties and carry them out faithfully, and to assume responsibility. They also give us the opportunity to contribute our own ideas to the group and respect the opinions of others.

This, then, is the second link in our "chain of maturity."

STUDENT COUNCIL

the voice of the students in school affairs

Every Monday morning Student Council, composed of a cabinet elected by the student body in 1957 and a representative from each homeroom, met to discuss various school activities and problems. The students took great interest in planning these activities which consisted of a magazine campaign to earn money for Student Council projects; the sponsorship of a foreign exchange student, Tony Gimenez, from Spain; the planning of the student exchange program with Fort Morgan, Colorado; Shuffle Shop; and various paid assemblies which were held throughout the year.

The agenda and additional plans for the meetings were arranged by the cabinet at their Tuesday morning meetings with sponsors, Mr. Metz and Miss Wadlinger.

'58 proved to be a very successful year for President Bill and Student Council. The success was mostly due to the excellent co-operation found among the administration, faculty, and students.

WEST WIND

Once a month during this year, West View was greeted by an issue of its newspaper, the West Wind. The newspaper staff, composed of students interested in journalism, worked under an editorial staff headed by editor-in-chief, Martha Willis. It was their duty to write the feature articles, report the current news of the school, and photograph its leaders and students—all of which made up the paper. Under the able guidance of the sponsor, Miss Delp, and the business adviser, Miss Armstrong, the West Wind for 1958 was extremely successful.

LIBRARY CLUB

The West View High School library was maintained in an orderly and efficient manner by Miss Rea and her capable assistants. These assistants were the girls who made up the Library Club.

The outstanding requirement of a prospective member was that she be willing to devote to the library some of her study halls and time before and after school.

A few duties of the members were checking books in and out, preparing and repairing new and old books, filing magazines, and decorating the bulletin boards. One of the more pleasant jobs was that of trimming the library for the yuletide season.

The Library Club members did not go totally unrewarded for their unselfish work. They were rewarded not only at an annual spring banquet, but also by self-satisfaction with the efficiency of their work.

SPEECH CLUB

to gain experience in public speaking

To the people who possess the talent of good public speaking, along with those who wish to improve in this field, Speech Club affords wonderful opportunities. These people gain experience by participating in speech contests covering all phases of speaking, including humorous and dramatic declamations, orations, debate, extemporaneous speaking, and Student Congress, in which bills of national interest are discussed and voted upon in a House and Senate. West View's Speech Club was one of the most outstanding in the district. Our state contest entries received very high ratings throughout the speech tournaments held by the state.

Mr. Metz and Miss Morris, sponsors, guided the students by helping them with the fundamentals of public speaking.

Through Speech Club's outstanding work West View has become even more renowned and respected by other schools.

scholarship, leadership, service, and character

The highest honor a student may receive at West View is to become a member of the National Honor Society. This is a national organization of which the members are chosen on the basis of the following traits: Scholarship, Leadership, Service, and Character.

The members were selected by the teachers and included twenty-six seniors and seven juniors. A tapping assembly was held at which the seven seniors chosen the previous year first introduced the new members to the student body. Later, the boys and girls, wearing suits and white dresses, were formally initiated into the society. A replica of the flaming torch of truth, symbol of the National Honor Society, was made into pins and given to the members to keep as a remembrance of the honor bestowed on them.

to develop christian character through service

As in past years, the Hi-Y has once again lived up to its motto. This service organization was sponsored by Mr. Robert Garbart. In early November the boys were formally initiated in a candlelight induction ceremony held at Heinz Chapel.

Meetings of the cabinet were held every other week, to plan the agenda for the biweekly meetings. At these meetings the boys, under the leadership of Charles Kovach, president, had a chance to further their interests in various occupations and to learn, along with this, the importance of thoughtfulness for others. Many of this year's meetings consisted of lectures by eminent people, including a series of army talks. An active sports program was also maintained, including the now famous Hi-Y basketball team.

Hi-Y has proven to be a very beneficial club, where good times and a general knowledge of the world in which we live may be obtained by all members.

Chum Kovach, President, and Mr. Garbart, sponsor, make final plans for their Wednesday night meeting.

The famous Hi-Y basketball team.

The Y-Teen Club has been a popular activity with all of the girls at West View. This year has proved to be the most successful the Y-Teen has ever had. Vera Eckert, president, possessed the enthusiasm which drove this group on to new horizons.

This year, Y-Teen Club exemplified West View's motto: "Not to be served, but to serve." In May, the group visited an orphanage and gave a picnic for all the children. Y-Teen members spent many hours making scrapbooks for a children's home at Easter. Two of the outstanding meetings were a lecture given by a model from Earl Wheeler's on good grooming, and the visitation of a woman in the armed services.

The success of Y-Teens can be attributed largely to Mrs. Craig, the sponsor, whose ceaseless efforts to improve the club never dwindled. The fine fellowship and spirit of all the members made this a memorable year.

worked behind the scenes

The stage crew hard at work.

"Pull that curtain, check those lights, set the stage!" These were the familiar cries of the stage crew, a hard working organization under the leadership of Tal Weimer, vice president of Student Council, and the sponsorship of Mr. Metz, who trained the members for their particular jobs.

The junior and senior class plays required the most exacting and responsible work of the boys, since they called for a special knowledge of operating lights, curtains, and scenery props.

Besides performances by school organizations, the stage crew tackled the jobs of setting stages and managing various delicate details entailed with the performances of the Lion's Club and the Parents Musical Association.

We are certainly indebted to these boys for a year of hard, efficient work in a thankless job.

our private police force

Secretary of Traffic, Bill Hadfield, on his way to check the patrol posts.

The hall patrol—in action.

West View's hall patrol was composed of thirtyeight boys who capably directed the traffic in our crowded halls. Secretary of Traffic, Bill Hadfield, and his assistant, Dave Weitzel, chose the members on the basis of bravery, their ability to stand on their own two feet, and their unselfish desire to put duty before their own lives. These boys were placed at strategic positions throughout the halls, and they did their best to organize traffic and keep it flowing smoothly.

A few of the more courageous boys volunteered for lunchroom service. Their task was to restrain our more ravenous students from trampling their weaker compatriots into the dust as they bounded through the lunch line.

During the opening days of school, the hall patrol members were helpful in acquainting the sophomores, new students, and some of our more absent-minded upperclassmen with the intricacies of our school hallways.

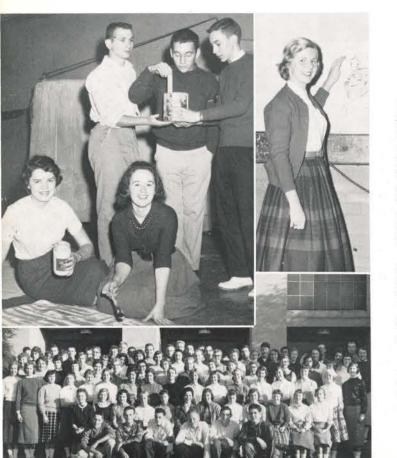

We sincerely wish to extend our appreciation to our hall patrol members for their faithful and successful service this year.

SHUFFLE SHOP COMMITTEE

the backbone of our saturday night dances

Almost every Saturday afternoon, the members of the energetic and untiring Shuffle Shop Committee could be found in the gym, hard at work putting up band risers and decorations, to give each dance a new atmosphere. They were led in their many tasks by the competent secretary, Sue Waite, and her assistant, Nancy Lloyd. Some of the themes which were used at Shuffle Shop this past year were the Back to Books Bounce, the Subscription Stomp, the Touchdown Trot, and the Sputnik Swing.

Not only was it the duty of this committee to decorate, but also to take tickets at the door, sell refreshments, and contact local disc jockeys to appear at the school dances.

The Shuffle Shop Committee has had a very effectual year because of the co-operation which was found among its members.

This year's Pep Club has been one of West View's most successful. Ably led by President Ann Kleinschmidt, Pep Club has raised school spirits to its peak and kept up the morale of all the teams.

We have Pep Club to thank for the colorful and elaborate decorations seen at our pep assemblies. Many hours of work were spent after school by the Decoration Committee in trimming the auditorium. Members of the Ticket Committee were responsible for collecting tickets and ushering at all of the home games. The many clever posters seen in the halls were the result of the Publicity and Poster Committees' work.

We also owe thanks to Mr. Caruso, Pep Club's sponsor, for the help he has given them in making this year such a successful one.

LATIN CLUB to foster student interest

in roman culture

Membership in the Latin Club was opened to all second-year Latin students at West View. Our chapter of the Junior Classical League has been in existence for ten years. Under the capable sponsorship of Miss Vance, the club elected as its principal officers, Tribunes Robert Costello and Gene Showe. The club was divided into committees which planned and conducted the meetings and public affairs.

The students who attended the first meeting were entertained by our exchange student, Tony Gimenez, and other student talent. The high point of the year's activity was the Roman Banquet which was held in the spring. The atmosphere was typical of Roman days, even to the dress of togas and the menu.

Much credit should be given to Miss Vance and the officers for the effective job done.

A new addition to the extracurricular activities, the Foreign Pen Pals Club has been both educational and enjoyable for its members.

It is composed of approximately one hundred sophomores, almost all of whom are communicating with students in foreign lands. Some of the pen pals were received through a special request made to the Director of Foreign Communications in Japan, a venture which proved quite interesting and beneficial.

The club enlivened the students' interest in the lives and countries of their foreign neighbors, and in this way created a better understanding among the young people of different nations.

SCIENCE ACHIEVEMENT ORGANIZATION

offers extensive scientific opportunities

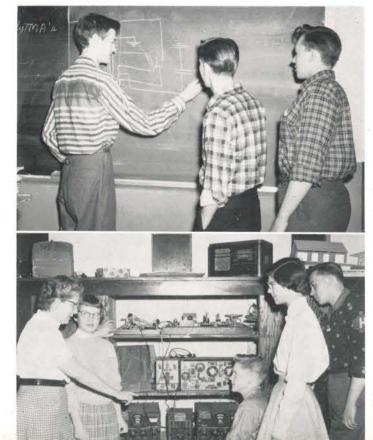

The Science Achievement Organization, S.A.O., is an organization made up of students interested in science.

Monthly meetings, ably led by President John Pittner and his cabinet, were held to discuss various topics such as atomic energy, rockets, and radio.

The goal of each member was to first enter his project in the Science Fair held at West View and then, if the project was judged to be worthy, to enter it in the Science Fair at Buhl Planetarium. Mrs. Gibson, the sponsor of S.A.O., provided any necessary assistance or leadership needed by the students when constructing their projects. Enthusiasm on the part of the members in this club and their undying interest in science has made S.A.O. a very worthwhile club at West View.

We at West View High are privileged to have Junior Achievement, a national organization, as one of our activities.

Junior Achievement is sponsored by United States Steel, Gulf Corporation, Royal Typewriter, and other successful firms. The club met once every week in the Malony Building, located on the Boulevard of the Allies.

The members are required to apply for a charter, issue a prospectus to arouse interest, and sell stock in the junior company they choose. There they manufacture a product and market it to individuals and companies. These companies are organized for profit, and with sound efficient management, they resulted in a dividend for the stockholders.

Through the educational and social aspects of Junior Achievement, the members of this organization will remember it for a long time to come.

STUDENT EXCHANGE

A trip to Fort Morgan, Colorado, highlighted the school term for thirty West View students who participated in the student exchange program. The West View students, chosen by the offices they held or their class rank, arrived in Fort Morgan on Sunday morning, April thirteenth, and were entertained for a full week by the "Coloradians." The host exchange students of Fort Morgan organized and executed a very interesting schedule of field trips, including trips to Estes Park, Denver, and Boulder. Classes and social events exemplifying "Western hospitality" were included on the agenda.

The West View students were hosts to the thirty Fort Morgan students during the week of February ninth, but the Fort Morgan students reappeared on the scene when their train, which was returning them from a supplementary trip to Washington, D.C., left them once again in the Pittsburgh train station. During their week's stay in West View, they went on many field trips and also attended classes.

The student exchange was of great value and will be long remembered, especially by those who were directly active in this educational experience.

This is the 1958 Westvian, the result of many hours of work on the part of the staffs and the competent editors.

Even before the school year started, the editors were hard at work planning the yearbook. The work of the staffs began with the new school term, when they participated in the patron campaign which helped to finance the annual.

The literary and activity staffs undertook the task of senior write-ups and clubs, while the features and sports staffs handled the social and sports events of the school. The illustrations which enliven the pages are the work of the art staff. Not to be forgotten is the typing staff, whose duty it was to type all the copy which was to appear in the book.

Without the guidance of the sponsors, Mr. Herman and Mr. Puchta, the Westvian staff could never have published such a successful yearbook.

offers to school and community the highest quality of orchestral music

West View High School's orchestra deserves our praise for its service in providing us with excellent music. This group of dedicated musicians performed for various activities throughout the school year, including Junior and Senior Class Plays, a Christmas program, May Day, the Spring Festival, and assemblies at neighboring schools. Their repertoire ranged from the traditional to the modern era. Added to the string section of the orchestra were the finest woodwind, brass, and percussion instrumentalists of the school.

Of course, the high reputation possessed by the orchestra would not have been possible without the conductor, Mr. Caruso. Congratulations to Mr. C. and the orchestra members for their outstanding work.

West View's spirited, superior singers have added honors aalore to her name. Our smoothly run chorus is devoted to its director. Miss Conner. Enthusiasm and ability are evidenced by the high calibre of music achieved in many concerts, assemblies, and chapel services.

However, in preparation for P.F.M.L. contests the chorus did its most exacting and difficult work and again has won the state championship this year.

The chorus performed at neighboring schools and colleges and this year sang with the band for the first time at the Band Festival held on our football field. From the 120 members, 69 were chosen to form the chapel choir, which song at each assembly. Various small ensembles added variety to evening concerts, sang for private groups, and also entered contests.

We shall always remember the chorus, in laughing, singing harmony, bringing honors to West View.

soft and sweet — loud and moving — this band plays them all!

Saturday night again at West View High School. Polished brass and ivory keys glitter and shine, basking in the twinkling reflections of light from the mirrored revolving globe which casts mellow lights over the dance floor. The Swing Band of 1957-1958 sets the mood for the evening with its pulsating "Night Train." Another Shuffle Shop has been made a success with the smooth jazz and swing of this famous band.

This year the band sections were skillfully co-ordinated under the dynamic leadership of Jack Anthony. The group was composed of seniors, juniors, and sophomores, all of whom were talented on their saxophones, trumpets, clarinets, trombones, and piano.

Certainly, it is known by all that, as in the past, the Swing Band has established a fine reputation for its terrific music.

NAY WILL AVM

Athletic activities can do much to develop individual maturity. They teach us to cooperate with each other and to work together, as a team, toward a common goal. Although each man is important because of his individual abilities, he is even more important because he becomes a member of a single, functioning unit. This promotes a spirit of fellowship among the members of the team. It develops our respect for the abilities and shortcomings of others. Through league competition, we are taught good sportsmanship. Learning to take losses well is vital to our development as individuals. Competition in sports can teach us to take defeats gracefully, as mature people should, as well as teach us to be gracious victors.

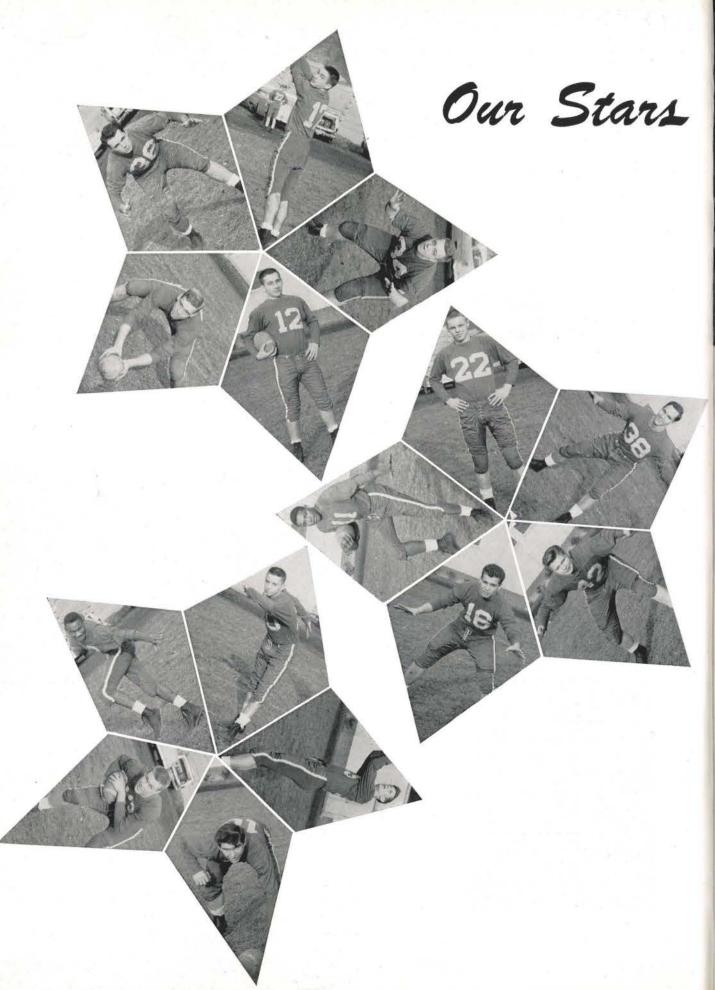

Because sports activities promote these good qualities in the individual they form an important link in our chain.

The dream of winning on Parents Night and for the seniors on Senior Day fell apart as Penn stopped the Indians' last drive late in the fourth period. C'mon, Mike! We want a basket.

West View's 1957-58 varsity basketball team started the season by bringing home a shining victory over Butler and went on to end the season with a 13-8 record in section competition. Coach Mario Martorelli and the team provided a thrilling basketball season for the Indian fans.

The starting lineup consisted of the following: Seniors —Mike Duesing, the only returning letterman and captain totaling 251 points; Chum Kovach, who ended the season with 145 markers; juniors — Rudy Raida, Bob Soleau, and Bob Patrick scoring 282, 186, and 121 points, respectively. Bruce Abel, a shining sophomore, became an addition during the season to the formidable quintet and totaled 145 points.

Congratulations to a fine team that now takes its deserving place in West View's hall of fame.

K. Hughes and B. Martin, managers.

our future "mighty indians"

For the second year in a row, the little Indians have had a record of nineteen and two. The losses were to Langley by three points and Westinghouse by eight points.

The long hours of work and practice finally paid off as the team scored 1079 points and ended the season with a revenge victory over the Hi-Y. Starters for this year's team were Ricky Stotz, John Roberts, Bill Corley, Barrie Smith, and Bill Fundenberg.

Under the able direction of Nelson Tiffany, the golf team of 1957 had a successful season. Three boys, Roddy Kotchin, Lee Seybert, and Bruce Weissenstein, were members of last year's team. The number one position was held by Lee Seybert. New additions to the team were Dick Patton and Wade Hauser, then seniors, and Ed Thomas, Tom Cunningham, and Charles Berberich, juniors.

The team played eight W.P.I.A.L. matches and won all of them to clinch section honors. Two exhibition matches were played with North Catholic High and Shadyside Academy.

Centerville beat West View in the section playoff. The team should be congratulated on a good winning record.

This year's wrestling squad, under the able coaching of Mr. John Weixel, had a season of ups and downs. Facing the annual problem of few holdovers and a tough schedule, Mr. Weixel did a wonderful job and built up a very good team. At the end of the season, West View scored three whirlwind victories, decisively downing Mt. Lebanon, West Allegheny, and Shadyside.

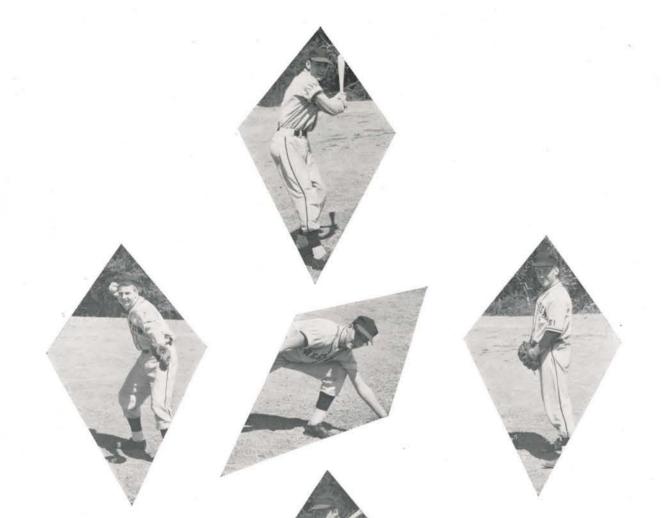

Among the boys on this fine team were five seniors: Ray Nunamaker, Dave Allen, Don Gaus, Bill Newlin, and Dave Weitzel. Dave Weitzel won the district tournaments at Shaler and got to the finals at the regionals at Washington, thus compiling one of the finest records in West View's history.

Congratulations to coach Weixel and to the fine team of 1958 for their good sportsmanship and their "never say die" spirit.

always shone on the field

The men of the diamond, led by Coach Hartman, as usual, had a very successful season in Section X competition.

As the season started, we found the pitching load carried by Ed Abel, Bill Hadfield, and Chum Kovach. Ted Newlin and Regie Heil were usually found on the receiving end of their deliveries.

Ed Luteran, with help from Bill Hadfield after an injury, held down the hot corner while Bruce Abel and Gary Kost worked at shortstop. Glenn Abel and Don Bechtold carried the load on the other side of the keystone. John Leech alternated with Wally Salac at the initial sack.

In the outfield Andy Hruneni, Herb Wright, Fred Tryner, Chum Kovach, and Dave Alig alternated the assignments.

The Indians had a 12 and 3 record, losing only 3 league games. The season was climaxed as they knocked North Allegheny out of the section title.

Congratulations to Coach Hartman and the team of 1957 for the successful season which was theirs!

GIRLS' BOWLING CLUB

always a strike; never a gutter ball

Team spirit and good sportsmanship can be found in West View's Bowling Club composed of various girls interested in athletic activity. This year the club consisted of approximately fifty members.

Marilyn Hartung was elected president and took charge of all club activities. She was assisted by a hard-working group of officers. They included Judy Bird, vice president; Elsie Peck, secretary; and Nancy Altenhoff, treasurer. The sponsor of the club this year was Laverne Raeder.

The girls met every other Thursday at the Bellevue Bowling Alleys and their averages for the night were recorded by the secretary.

A very successful year was climaxed with the annual bowling banquet at which prizes were given for various accomplishments.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

the west view "squaws" also excel in sports

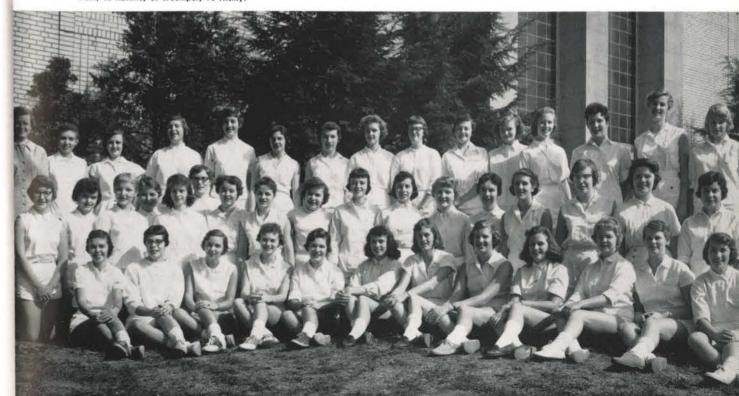

Miss Aiken discusses plans for intramural competition with L. Kinnen and M. James, President.

Not much is heard concerning girls' sports around West View, but G.A.A. ranks high as a favorite with them. It is made up of an extremely active group of athletic-minded girls who enjoy participating in various games which are played in the West View gymnasium after school each week.

The aim of a G.A.A. girl is to try to earn as many points as possible. One point is given each time a girl attends G.A.A., and extra credit is given if she is on a winning team. With these points it is possible to receive a small G.A.A. letter or the chenille varsity letter. The president of the club is automatically the girl with the highest number of points.

G.A.A. is sponsored by Miss Aiken, who directs the girls in the different sports and helps them to work together, in order that good sportsmanship, fellowship, and fair team work might be obtained.

cheered the indians on to victory

Bright and peppy in their red wool jumpers, the varsity cheerleaders were always on hand to cheer the Indians on to victory. The pep assemblies they presented were entertaining as well as inspiring to West View's rooters.

The girls responsible for leading the cheers at football and basketball games were Ollie Bovill, captain; Linda Brandt, Janet Grimm, and Martha Kotchin—all veterans of six years, Pat Selko, a five-year veteran, Carol Hudson and Edith Sigmann, each three-year veterans.

The varsity cadettes were responsible for the cheering at half-time during the football games and at Tuesday night basketball games, while the J.V. squad cheered at all the Junior Varsity games.

Mr. Caruso, sponsor of all three squads, should certainly be proud of this year's cheerleaders because of the fighting spirit they instilled in our teams.

Social maturity is one of the most important factors in the development of the mature individual. Throughout our lives we will, in all probability, be mixing socially with many people—our neighbors, friends, and business associates. It is essential to our happiness that we learn to mingle successfully with these people.

During our high school years, we are given many opportunities to acquire social grace. Dances and activities are numerous and varied. The experience we gain from attending these functions is instrumental in helping us to develop our social maturity. Social functions in high school form the fourth link in our "chain of maturity."

the queen is crowned

There was suspense in the air the night of Friday, May third. It was the night the May Queen of West View High School was to be chosen, and no one knew yet who it was. The audience was hushed by the dimming houselights, and the fair maidens of the court entered with their escorts. After taking their seats on the stage, the attendants of the Queen entered, who were Ollie Bovill, Linda Brandt, Beverly Sowyak, Julia Srsic, and Sue Waite. All eyes were fixed on the shut doors. The time had arrived for the Three Graces to enter. Slowly they opened and revealed the Lady-in-Waiting, Judy Weber, who was followed shortly afterward by the Maidof-Honor, Sue Clement. The doors parted for the last time and there stood our most lovely Queen, Virginia Larkin. After being crowned, she was entertained by dancers, singers, instrumental soloists, and the court jesters.

The Class of 1958 bows to their beautiful Queen of the May and wishes her a successful reign for the coming year.

"i remember mama"

"...But, most of all, I remember Mama ...", and the Junior Class Play of 1957 began.

The setting was the home of the Hanson family—Mama, Papa, Nels, Katrin, Dagmar, and Christine. The plot of the story was based on the problems and experiences shared by the whole Hanson household and close relatives, which included the aunts and frightening Uncle Chris. An excellent job was done by the cast in their portrayals which led the audience through much laughter and many tears.

Miss Delp should be very proud of the wonderful job she did in directing the play, and of her talented actors and actresses for their superb acting.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY

"sabrina fair"

Sabrina Fairchild arrived from Paris to the home of the Larrabee's, the family for which her father chauffeured. She had left home as a young, shy, dependent girl, but returned as a striking young woman who was interested in life and her childhood sweetheart, David. The play ended, however, with Sabrina landing Linus, the black sheep of the family.

The play, humorous by Mr. Larrabee's desire to attend all the local funerals, also had a serious moral —that classes in society are difficult to overcome and accept.

The beautiful scenery, a hard-working cast, and their very capable director, Miss Delp, made this play a success. Congratulations to you all!

Dancing and dreaming to the music of our famous Swing Band.

SHUFFLE SHOP

"our favorite hangout"

From the "Back to Books Bounce" to the "Subscription Stomp," the Shuffle Shops this year were packed with fun and excitement. With music provided by our terrific Swing Band, or the latest hit records, pop and food to quench our thirst and hunger after a drag around the crowded dance floor, colorful decorations and dimmed lights, and just allaround good fun among us and our classmates, it could be nothing else but our favorite hangout.

Dress, this year, consisted of suits or sports jackets for the fellows and date clothes for the gals. Most of the couples could be seen dancing across the front of the stage in the small stepped, slidy, traditional West View fashion, but here and there a few brave couples could be spotted trying "that newfangled" jitterbug step.

The dances lasted from 8:30-11:30, and again this year, Shuffle Shop membership cards were sold. Under this system the holders of the cards were admitted at a specially reduced rate.

Because of its success, Shuffle Shop will be unforgettable even long after we have left West View.

Many a night of a West-Viewite was spent at Shuffle Shop-fun, food, and fabulous dancers available to all attenders

Our Junior year arrived at last, and soon it was time for another class activity. Executive Council chose the Colonial as a perfect spot for a get-together. The date selected— November 19, 1956. Of course, every activity must have a name, and what was more appropriate at this time of year than the "Gnivigsknaht (gasunteit) Ball," Thanksgiving spelled backwards.

It was an enjoyable evening for everybody. The hours were spent dancing, eating, talking, and chasing Freddie, our photographer—by far the most popular man attending the activity. Dress consisted of suits for the fellows and pretty dressy dresses for the girls.

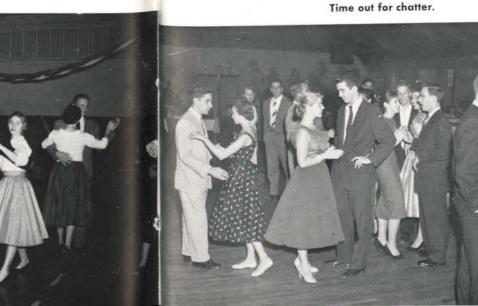

The Gnivigsknaht Ball was very successful and will always be remembered as a highlight of our Junior year.

JUNIOR PROM

i could have danced all night, and did!

The night of May eighth arrived at last, and filled with excitement, the West View couples entered the doors of Danceland. It was the night of the Junior Prom—the time of the year to which everyone had been looking forward with starry eyes.

The girls looked so lovely as they were escorted through the receiving line with their handsome dates. Couples could be seen dancing dreamily to the music of Baron Elliot, while others chatted at the tables or played Goofy Golf outside.

Time flew quickly, and soon the After-Prom Party began. Rock 'n Roll, starring Johnny and Joe, was featured and music "to sleep to" provided, along with a feast of barbecues, potato salad, and milk. It was early in the morning when the couples decided to head for home. Sleepily, but happily, they all agreed that the memories of this prom would always linger with them.

The fellows register their dates, and the prom gets underway.

Junior and Senior Class Presidents and sponsors welcomed the attenders in a receiving line. Such dreamy music—and how pretty all the girls look.

Dishes clanged and waitresses in black scurried around the Orangeblossom Room at the Gateway Plaza. The "vultures" from West View were there for their Senior Dinner Dance and just had to be fed. Swiss steak was on the menu, accompanied by a salad and vegetables, which satisfied the hunger of the class of '58. After eating, and eating, and more eating, the guys and girls leaned back in their chairs, and turned their attention from their empty plates to the speakers' table. Greetings were then given by Dr. Rice, Mr. Luke, the class sponsors, and Tom Calhoun, class president. The class was entertained by the Senior Girls' Ensemble. Dancing followed the delicious dinner and lasted until 12:00.

All of the seniors agreed unanimously that the activity was worthwhile, the food delicious, and the dancing enjoyable. They left, however, feeling a little sad, for they realized that this event marked the beginning of the end of their senior year.

The "Huntsmen Band" provides "music to dance by."

Hi, girls! How's the food?

Dancing to records. Our "half-time entertainment."

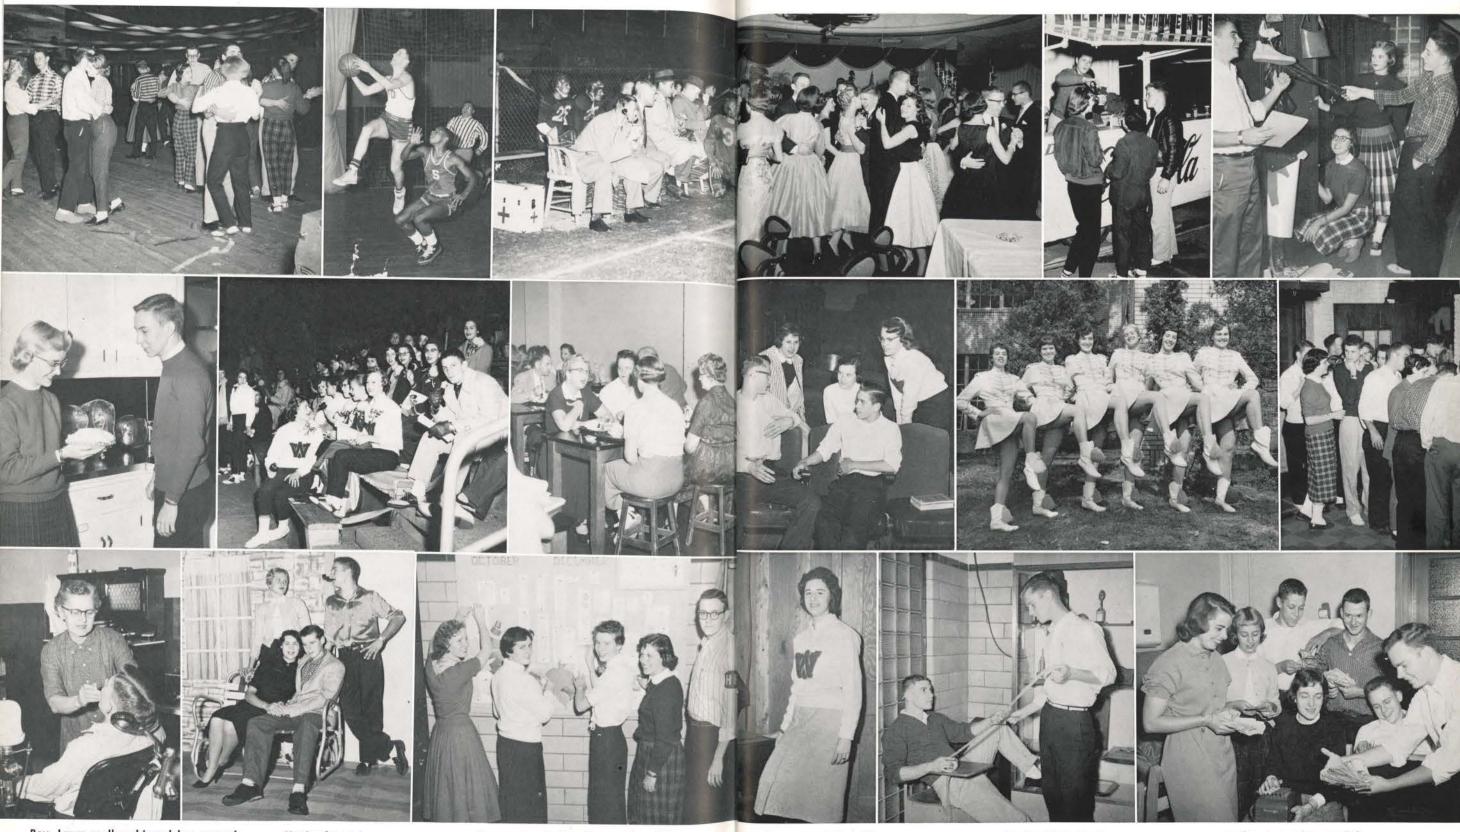

It was Thanksgiving season and time for the seniors to hold their "Turkeyfoot Trot." Dressed in slacks and sports outfits, the mighty class of '58 headed for North Park Lodge. The evening consisted of dancing and eating, two favorite pastimes of our classmates. Of course, there were the many races to the top of the water tower — which proved to be strenuous to those couples no longer in running condition. A feature later in the evening was Jim Schmidt's jazz group, that really wailed some good Rock 'n Roll music.

The "Turkeyfoot Trot" was a huge success and enjoyed by all. The fun and good time that was had served as a premonition for many that our whole senior year would be just as successful.

And there's "Fred Astaire" McKinley in the foreground.

ALMA MATER

First Verse

Nestled snug 'mid wooded hilltops, Shrined in every heart, Our beloved Alma Mater West View, fair thou art.

Second Verse

Voices gay, of youth and maiden, Echo 'round thy halls, Memories tender cling forever To thy chambered walls.

Chorus

Alma Mater, we thy children Tribute bring to thee. Hail to thee, our dear old West View, Hail thy memory.
